Royal Prince Hui-yeon has been approved to participate in Dae-Jung-Yul!!!

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 31. A Request

I offer my hearty congratulations. Your Highness.
Thank you. This is all thanks to your efforts, Left-parliamentarian Hong Chun.
All Left-parliamentarians made a good choice on this difficult matter without wavering.

...Your Highness.

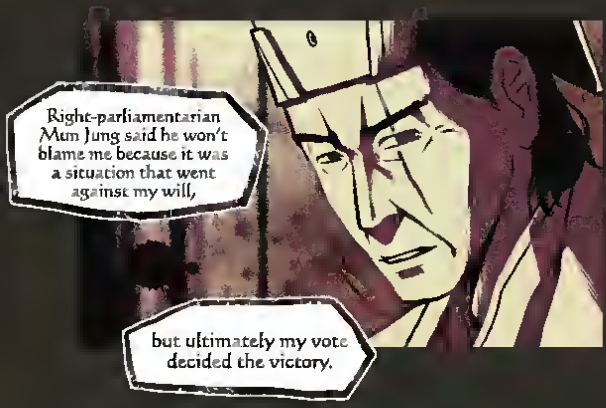

.....

... Rightparliamentarian.

...So, I am resigning from my Yul-gwan position and heading down to my hometown.
I already sent word to the Emperor His Royal Majesty through Right-parliamentarian Mun Jung.
As soon as I receive his permission, I will go away

When Your Highness ordered me to vote "For", I knew in my heart that it was the right thing to do.
It is enough that you did not turn me in for insulting the Royal Court

And Right-parliamentarian Mun Jung already knew that I had met you, and was going to vote For.
Of course, the Emperor must know this too.
Even though I don't think he will cut down a Yulgwan like me as he did with palace servants
I still think it's best that I leave.

Right-parliamentarian Mun Jung said he won't blame me because it was a situation that went against my will, but ultimately my vote decided the victory.

.....

Are you afraid of the Emperor?

.....

And I…

...Please go on

This humble servant is...

even afraid of your Highness, Prince Hui Yeon...!!

.....

My utmost apologies
However, I am afraid of staying any longer inside the Royal Palace
Therefore, I would like to go down to my Hometown and live quietly. I sincerely hope you achieve your goals

STEP
.....

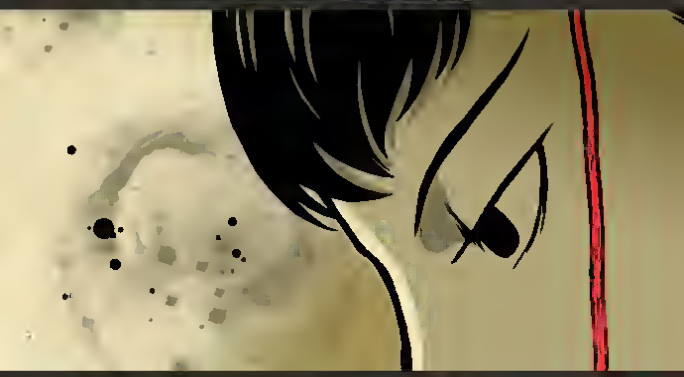

...Kangyul.
Yes, Your Highness.

Even if I am able to make my way to the throne, I won't be able to become a good ruler.
...!

How so...?

I have to resort to doing anything and everything I can to stop the Emperor...
Because that is the only way. He is way too powerful to defeat.
However...

I don't think I am much different.

I believe that historians in the future will judge me, and I set my heart on throwing away my present self but . .

. . .It's not easy.

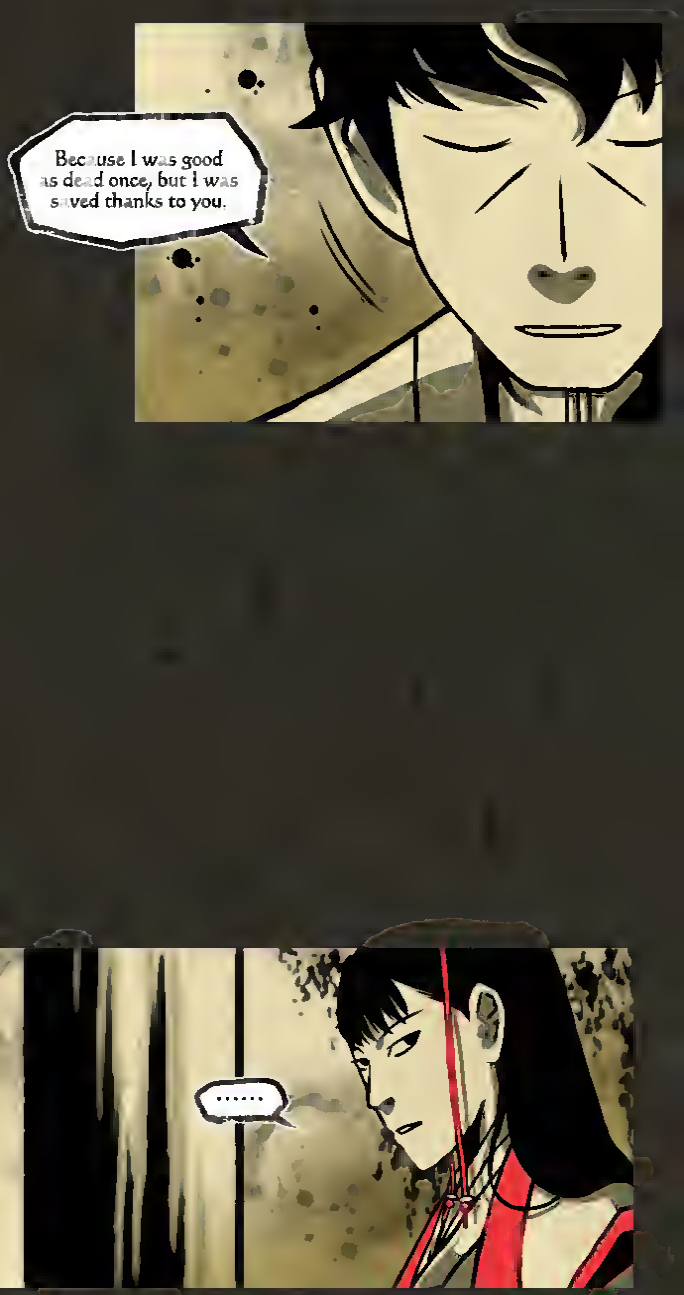

……

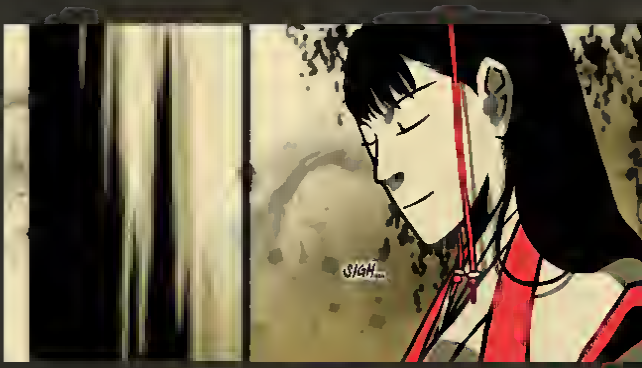

This humble servant cannot discern what is right and wrong

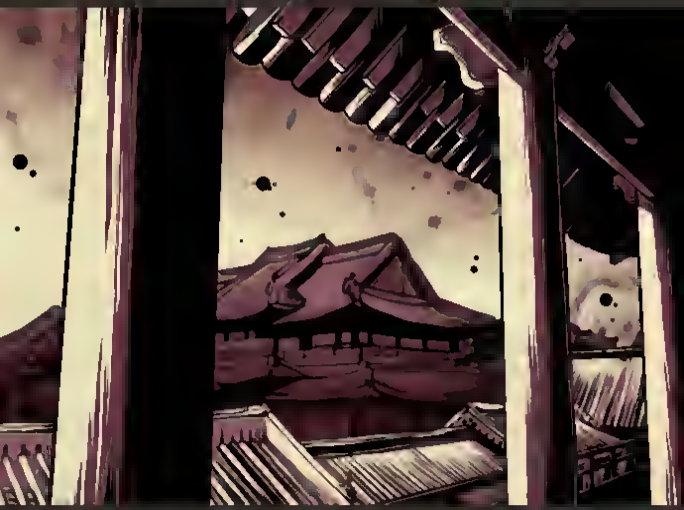

…But, Your Highness.

The fact that Your Highness the Prince is planning an uprising is significant enough
If it's not Your Highness, no one else can dream of this.
Even if the way is sneaky and unfair, act as you wish
I will shoulder any burden of blame that occurs during the process...

Because I was good as dead once, but I was saved thanks to you.
.....

...Thank you, Kangyul.

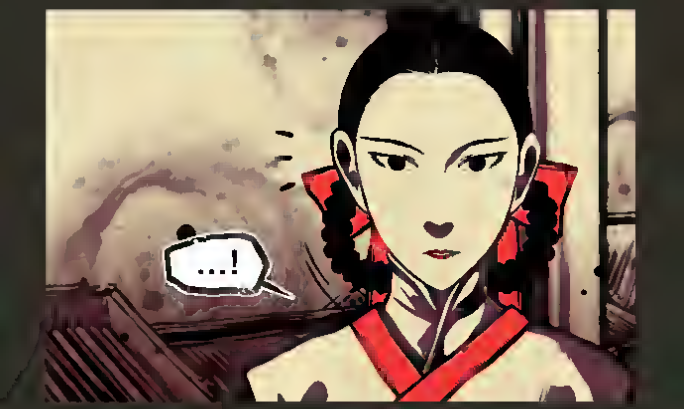

His Highness Prince Hui Yeon will be participating in Dae-Jung-Yul from now on.
I thought he had a purpose for returning to the Royal palace but participating in Dae-jung-yul ...
.....
Things are moving fast.

Well, Dae-jung-yul or not. Thank you for your hard work today. Yeon Hwa.

It's nothing. Thank you for giving me a good opportunity to see His Majesty, Lord Mu Ryang.

Do you really think that?

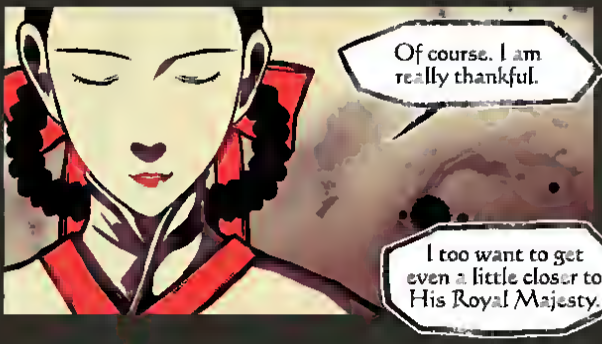

What do you mean...?
.....
How should I say this...when I see other ladies of the royal court they either dream of becoming a concubine, or they have goals toward whatever tasks they are assigned to.
I can see them dreaming within their lives as ladies of the court.
For example...

Look at Cho Hee
She immediately stands out
Whether it's His Royal Majesty or His Highness, others can see she tries to stand out

But Yeon Hwa, you...
I don't really know.

So that's why I asked. Whether you really think that way.

Of course. I am really thankful.
I too want to get even a little closer to His Royal Majesty.

Then would you please listen to a request of mine?

Hm... then would you please listen to my request?

Request...?
I would like us to have a more friendly relationship, Yeon Hwa.
My wish is that you should not be so formal while you're with me.
Please just call me Mu Ryang when we're alone.

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 32. Name

I can't do that.

When what you call a person changes...

your relationship with that person changes.

The relationship between Lord Mu Ryang and me... is good enough between a Yul-saeng-do who's esteeming to become a Parliamentarian and a lady of the court who desires to be by His Majesty the Emperor.

.....

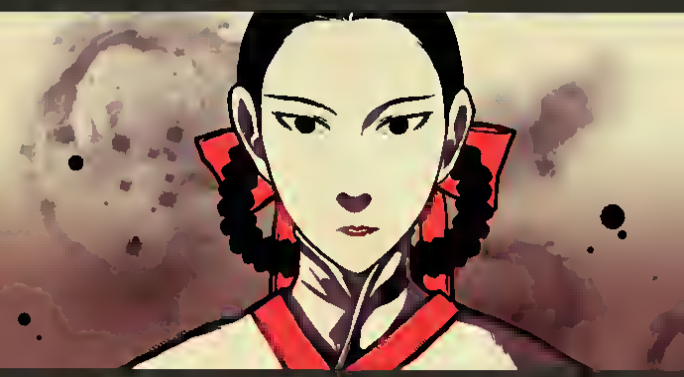

Is that so...

Then I won't force you. But...

I wish you would be at ease and relax.
.....
It feels like you're always tense...
The reason why I asked you to call me informally is also, because I wanted you to relax in front of me at least.
If you keep on like that...

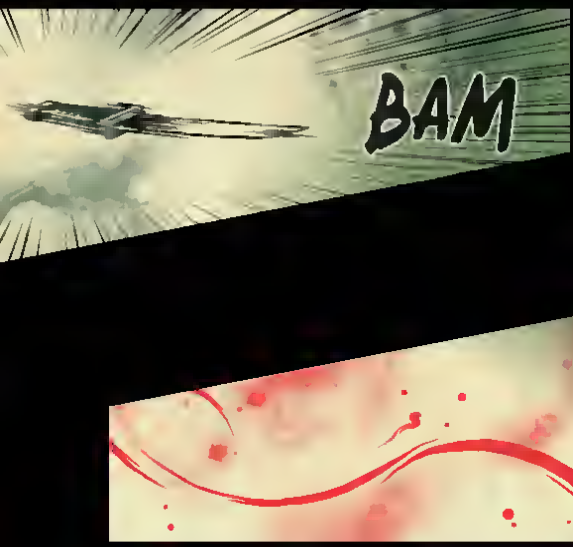

It will be tiring for you.

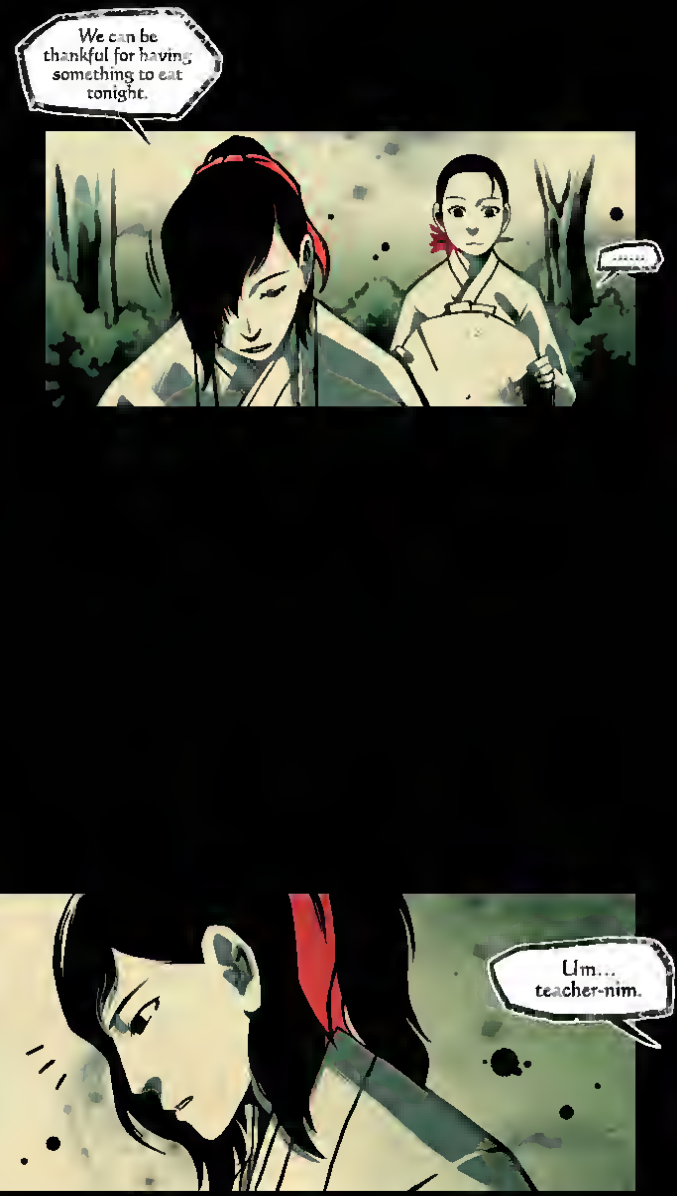

PERK

BAM

.....
WHOMP.

We can be thankful for having something to eat tonight.
.....
Um... teacher-nim.

If I practice a lot....
If I practice more and more, can I kill with a knife just like that?

.....

A rabbit?

...or a human?

SLUMP...

Yeon Hwa.
You probably know already what I do for a living.
.....
Because you can guess that much.

But, when I first brought you here, what did I say to you?
That you'll teach me 'how to survive,' not 'how to seek revenge.'

...Yes. You remember well.
Revenge is not an end but another beginning
I've come too far already that it doesn't feel weird when someone tries to kill me.
Do you still want to seek revenge seeing me like this...?

...BUT!!
THIS DOESN'T MAKE SENSE!
WHY MUST THE ONE WHO HOLDS BACK ALWAYS HOLD BACK!!

They do as they please!
Kill! Burn! And destroy!
Why must the weak always concede?!

...Yes, it angers you. It makes you sad.

It's unfair, petty, and despicable.

However, if you kill them and burn just like they do the ones left behind will also get angry, detest you, and seek your blood.
Then, what next?

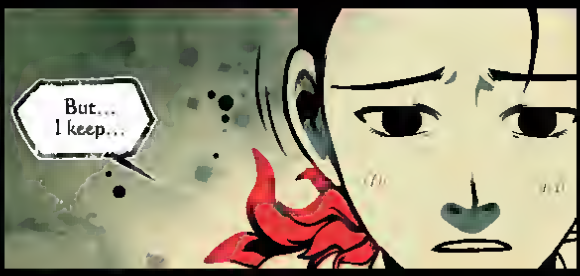

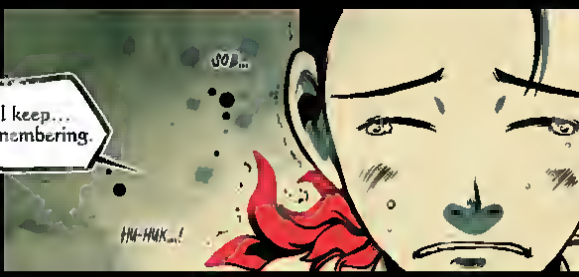

Is that what you want?

If you really want that, then you no longer need to call me 'Teacher'.
When what you call me changes, so does our relationship.

I did not bring you here to make you into an assassin so I have nothing to teach you.
Don't call me 'Teacher'

.....

But...
I keep...

I keep... remembering.
SOB...
HU-HUK...!

I KEEP REMEMBERING THAT NIGHT...!!
THEY BURNED EVERYTHING!
AND CUT DOWN EVERYONE!
SOB
SOB
HUG...
SOB SOB...!
GROAN...
ONLY I...
SOB
I SURVIVED...!

...It must be difficult but you must persevere.
Ease up... relax...
Regard your surroundings with a peaceful state of mind...

It will be tiring for you...

Yeon Hwa
Are you alright?

My request must have really troubled you.
.....

Thank you for your words, but I still can't do it.
Then, please excuse me.

.....

Hm...

...What should I do.

I like her more...

This humble servant has wronged you.
I thought, as a faction hurriedly gathered for Dae-Jung-Yul, the Left-parliamentarians would easily waver
I underestimated that one Right-parliamentarian that Prince Hui Yeon won over and thus we lost
I don't know what method they used, but the Left-parliamentarian's unity was firmer than I thought.

Now that the Prince is able to participate in Dae-jung-yul,
He will put his plans into action faster for sure.

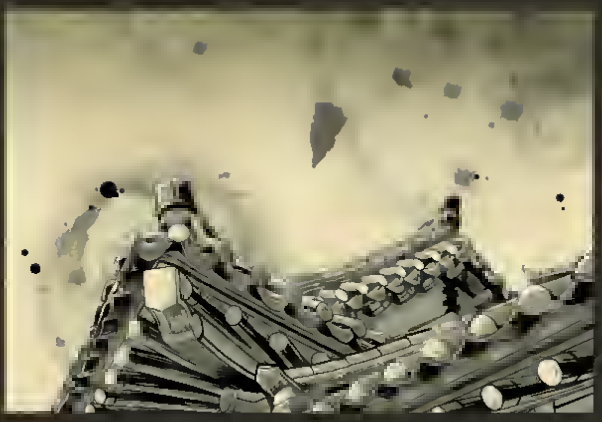

Will you become obedient if I tie your hands and put a gag in your mouth
Hui Yeon

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 33. Jealousy

Tomorrow, you said?

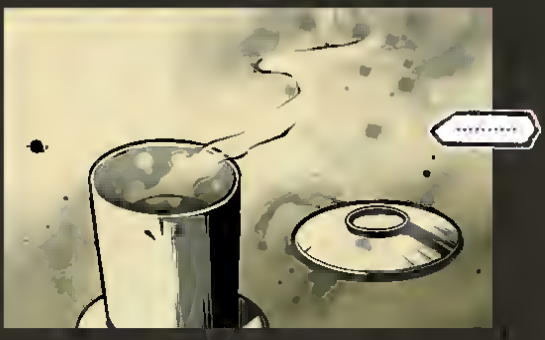

That's right. Even when Dae-jung-yul is not being held, I plan on visiting the main palace often
If I keep visiting the main palace without a reason, no one will think much of it.
Now that my participation in Dae-jung-yul is approved, there's no outward problem for me to visit it.
I still need to make the Left-parliamentarians mine too.
Anyway, this is my task so you don't need to worry. Kangyul, you...

Will accompany me when I visit the main palace, and meet Dan Hyang.

Ah, speaking of Dan Hyang...

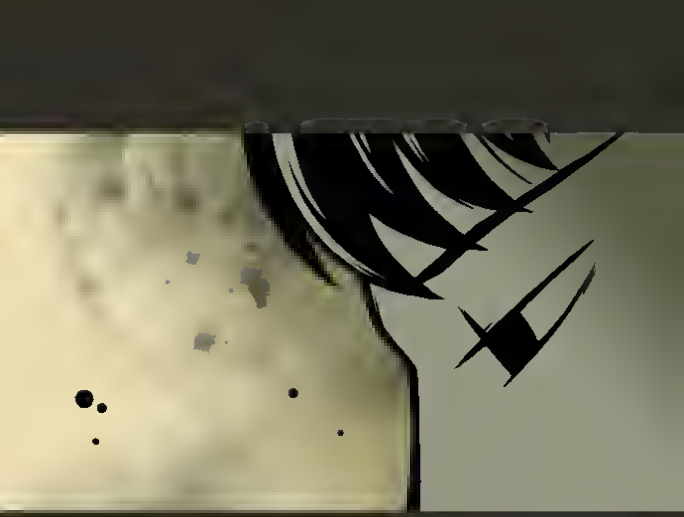

An earring on his left ear...?
Yes. When Your Highness was first announcing your desire to participate in Dae-jung-yul
I was waiting outside the chamber.

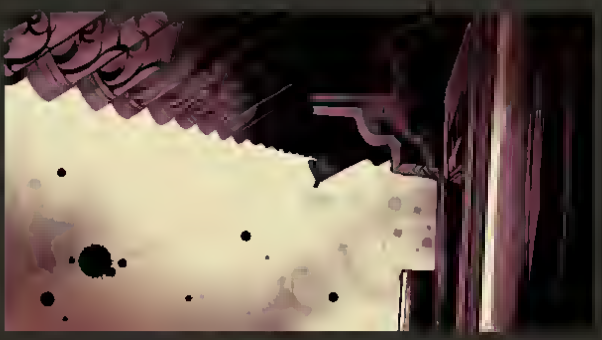

I happened to see Dan Hyang then and she was with a man who had an earring on his left ear.
I didn't think much of it so I have not told you till now.
If he's wearing an earring on his left ear... he must be a Yul-saeng-do.

Yul-saeng-do... you mean?
Mm. It's a governmental position one must hold before entering the Left or Right-parliament

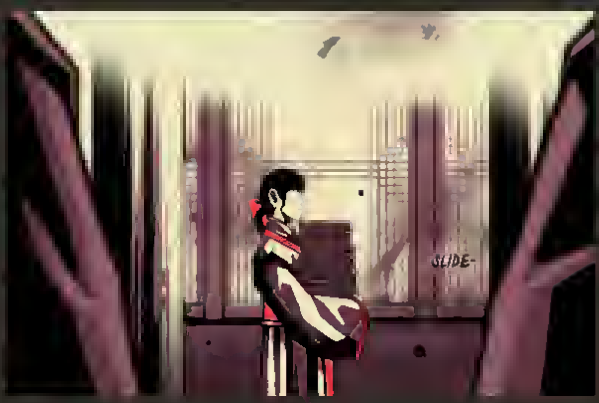

The Emperor's Birthday is in few months so it isn't strange that a Yul-saeng-do is overseeing education of the court ladies...

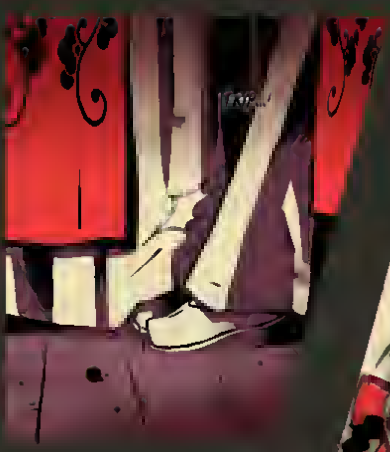

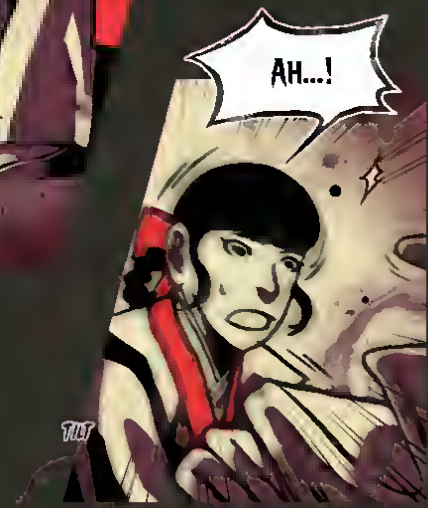

Yul-saeng-do, eh...

I was wondering what this was...
No matter where I go, there are always people like you.

Huh?! Are you her friend?

I don't want to cause a ruckus so just go quietly when I'm letting you.

You...used to be in the past?
Yep. The fact that we both are focused on one thing alone.

I didn't care for anything else besides that.
Because I was so focused on one thing, I was able to survive.

How can such a thing happen!
.....
Who would dare harm a Parliamentarian of this great Juushin!
Did anyone discover anything?!

*THE PRINCIPAL ROYAL INVESTIGATOR: A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL RESPONSIBLE FOR INVESTIGATION WITHIN AND RELATED TO MATTERS OF THE ROYAL PALACE.

NO MATTER WHAT, WE CANNOT TAKE THIS LIGHTLY!!
.....
Your Majesty.
...!
Your servant, Left-parliamentarian Hong Chun, would like to speak.

Therefore...

This may not be over yet.

Perhaps...! Are you suggesting that another Parliamentarian might be harmed?
MURMUR
MURMUR
MURMUR
He harmed no one else, but a Parliamentarian, the most senior governmental official of this Great Juushm.
He must have acted with great mental fortitude.

Your Majesty.
Your servant, Right-parliamentarian Mun Jung, would like to speak.
Your humble servant also thinks this is a possibility.

The perpetrator calmly and systematically eliminated a Parliamentarian.
There might be a plan to harm another Parliamentarian too.
.....

...Very well.
We will reorganize the guards within the Royal Court and temporarily provide bodyguards to Parliamentarians.
Moreover, we will reinforce the watch within the Royal Palace, and everyone must act with caution until the culprit of this incident is caught!
Thank you- Your Majesty.

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 35. Red Blossom Yu Dan tree

CALL ROLL AND REPORT!
MURMUR
MURMUR
OVER THERE! NO MORE CHIT-CHATTING!

...The soldiers are gathered.

This is no ordinary incident.
They must be reinforcing the Parliamentarians' guard.
Who would do something like this...?

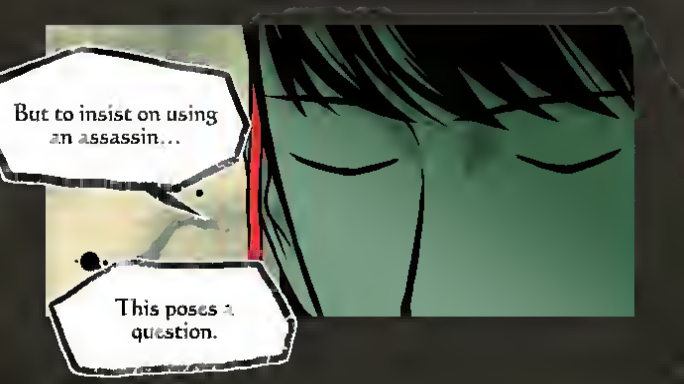

Could someone from the Emperor's side eliminated him as a way to blame him for the loss in Dae-jung-yul?
One could think that but it still doesn't match up.
First, the timing is bad.
It doesn't look good to the outside that something like this happened few months before the Emperor's Birthday, not to mention mocking the Royal Court

Second, there are no real benefits from assassinating a Parliamentarian.
A loss in Dae-jung-yul isn't too big a problem to the Emperor.
.....
We've risked a lot on this, but it's not the same from the emperor's point of view.
Of course, he has a lot of pride so he must be in a bad mood...
But he wouldn't kill the parliamentarian for that reason alone.

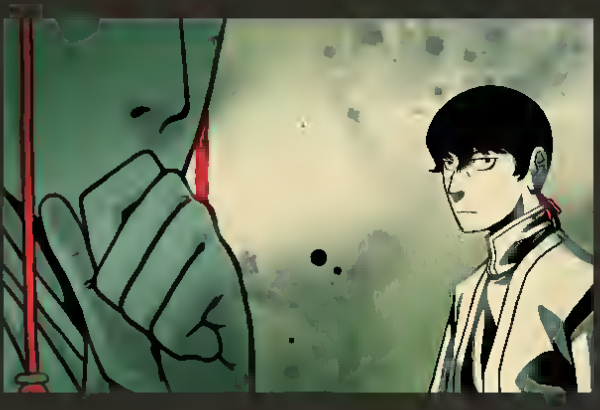

And lastly...
...?

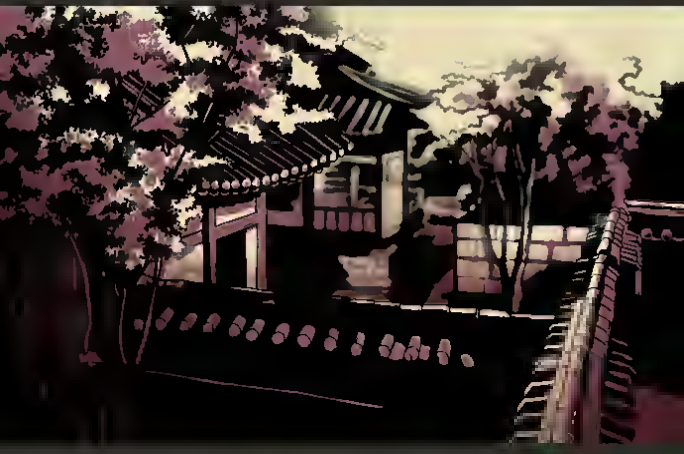

This method is bothersome.
From his position as the Emperor, getting rid of a Parliamentarian isn't much of a hassle.

If the Emperor wanted the Parliamentarian to take responsibility there was no need to use an assassin.
And the Parliamentarian stepped down from the position on his own so he took the blame himself.

But to insist on using an assassin...
This poses a question.

Who...?
Why...?

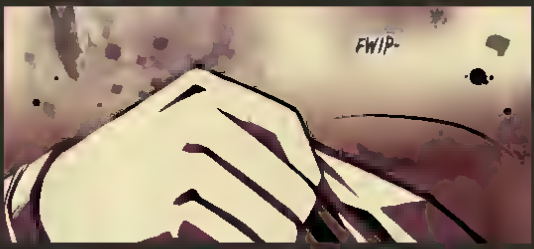

The Principal Royal Investigator, Joong Ho, has arrived. He's looking for you, Coroner.
Hm, I understand. I'll be right out.

Welcome.
Yes. Thank you for your hard work.
POW-

To have such a thing happen... one can never tell with people.
Where is the body?
LEAH-

It's still inside.
This way.
Hm, good.
Let's go.

I've only covered up the corpse but left it otherwise.
Hm...

FWIP-

.....
It seems like the assassin stabbed him deeply only once.
This isn't done by an amateur.

...?
What's this in the pocket?
Oh? I did not examine the pockets...
Is something in there?

Come look.

Isn't this ... a branch from a blossom tree?
Why is this here.....

And moreover, this flower shouldn't be blooming in this season....
Does the Principal Royal Investigator know what kind of tree this blossoming branch is from?
Red Blossom Yu Dan tree...
That's the name of this tree.

It blossoms very briefly in spring and then withers away.
It's hard to see these now, because they were all burned down during the war, but these used to be very common and seen everywhere.

it was called 'Dan Hyang Tree.'

Dan
Hyang...tree?

Yes. And...

There used to be an assassin by that name.

Yes. And...

There used to be an assassin by that name.

...?!
Then are you saying this was left by the culprit?
...Probably.

A dying parliamentarian wouldn't have put a blossoming branch out of season in his pocket and fell dead.
The assassin is letting us know that she has made her move and mocking us.
This is dangerous...it's no ordinary incident.
RUSTLE-

....Is she really that dangerous?
This assassin called Dan Hyang?

You and most people don't really know but, when you work in this field for this long you hear that name at least once
Guessing by the name 'Dan Hyang' it's thought to be a woman, but no one knows the real identity of that person

Looking at the assassin's skills, it could be a man using a fake name...
And this assassin called Dan Hyang is known to harbor ill intensions toward the Royal Court.
Then she could be targeting another Right-parliamentarian...?!

THE ASSASSINATION OF THE EMPEROR.

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 36. Clue

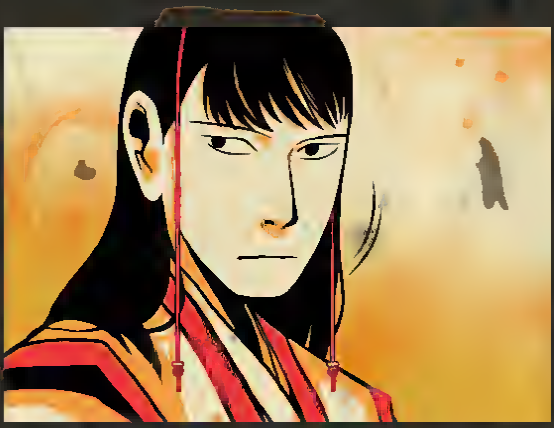

STEP
STEP
STEP

I think I will be in there for a long time due to murder of parliamentarian so keep that in mind.
Yes. Your Highness.

PEEK-

.....
NODS-

Your Majesty.
This humble servant, Chief Royal Investigator Joong Ho, has come upon your summons.

.....
That person is the Chief Royal Investigator.

He must be the one undertaking the investigation of the Right parliamentarian's assassination...

So, have you found anything?
Please speak.

Yes. Your Majesty.
There really was nothing for me to examine.
The assassin deliberately left a clue revealing her identity on the body of Right-parliamentarian.

...What did you say?
A clue?
Yes. Your Majesty

The culprit, after assassinating the parliamentarian, left a blossoming branch inside one of robe pockets on the corpse.

The name of the tree is called Red Blossom Yu Dan tree...
The common people call it...

'Dan Hyang tree' for short.

What...?!
...Dan Hyang?!

Dan Hyang?! How could that...!
MURMUR
MURMUR
Royal Investigator! What are you saying?!

Most of this country's citizens, and even in Royal Court, almost no one really knows what this name means.
However, including His Majesty the Emperor here, and the Left, Right-parliamentarians, there's no way you wouldn't know this name.

...Chief Royal Investigator Joong Ho.
...!
I apologize, but I have not heard of this name.
Just who are you talking about?
Your Highness the Prince.
This humble servant shall explain.

While you were gone from the Royal Palace, there was intelligence saying there is an attempt to assassinate the Emperor.

...Assassinate the Emperor?
Yes. It was the assassin called Dan Hyang.

But, for some reason, she didn't really attempt the assassination.
We think she gave up and fled after the Royal Court received that intelligence and reinforced its guards...
Anyway, there was no more mention of the name "Dan Hyang", in Royal Court after that.

.....

Dan Hyang, we heard that you have a personal vendetta against the Emperor and planned to assassinate him but did not put that plan into action.

I am... called 'Yeon Hwa.'

So that is why...
When Dan Hyang planned the assassination alone, the Royal Court got to know her name and that's why she used a fake name 'Yeon Hwa' when the Emperor asked her name

Because the name 'Dan Hyang' is dangerous

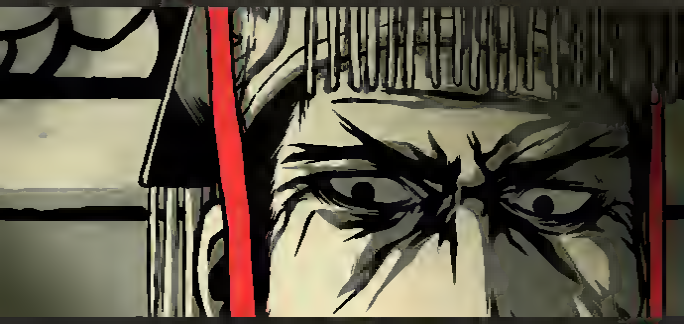

...But, Royal Investigator...
Even if she didn't put that plan to work, she was plotting to assassinate the Emperor...
Why did you not apprehend her then?
To be honest, the timing...
The war has just ended and the country was in turmoil so...
Even within the Royal Palace, only the parliamentarians and the few Royal Investigators were privy to this knowledge.

At least, the image of Juushin after the war.. could not bear to show a weak side so at the time we tried to cover it up
.....
And the real assassin didn't appear so we didn't want to make this incident bigger Stop there.
Stop talking about needless things.

The fact that the assassin called Dan Hyang appeared again, means that she not only targeted parliamentarians but also myself.
The place I stand is always under threat so you don't need to cause a ruckus
However, the situation right now is different from before when we received intelligence of Dan Hyang attempting an assassination
.....
Juushin right now is no longer in middle of war and Dan Hyang has already assassinated a parliamentarian.

Before, she only made plans and did not put them to action, but now, starting with the Right parliamentarian's murder, she has already begun.
That's why she's leaving behind a blossoming branch and mocking me.
There is no reason for me to be merciful and leave her alone.
Thus, I order you...

Use every method possible...

and apprehend Dan Hyang!!

To use every method possible...

...and apprehend
Dan Hyang!!

Don't assume that it's a woman just from her name!
If you have doubts examine both men and women carefully.
Parliamentarians and Royal Investigator, divide your people and pursue any trails and hints related to Dan Hyang.
Yes. Your Majesty!

Whether the culprit of the Right-parliamentarian's assassination is really Dan Hyang or not, this is a dangerous turn of events...
PRESS...
Dan Hyang did live alone somewhere secluded but, she did not hide herself and...
Kangyul was able to find her So it's possible that the Royal Court would find traces of her too

If Royal Court would seriously pursue Dan Hyang and discover she's already within Royal Palace..!

Chapter 37. Doubt

SEARCH
SEARCH

Ah.. !

There you are.
.....

...Did something happen?

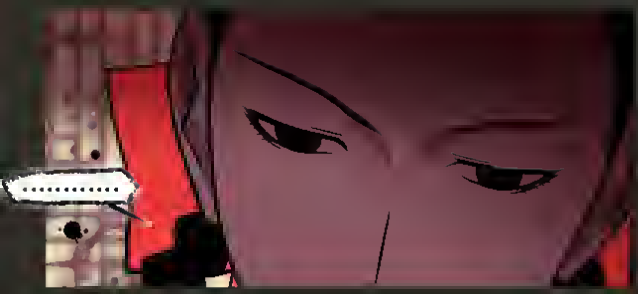

I figured you wouldn't know
The Head Mistress said something that should be delivered to everyone
...?
They are temporarily restricting Ladies of the court from going outside of Mam Palace
.....
I think they've ordered us to mostly spend our days indoors.

Well, we don't really have any reason to go outside of the Main Palace so it doesn't matter but...
To spend our days indoors too that's a little stifling ..
Is it because of the assassination...?

I think so?

I wonder who did it...

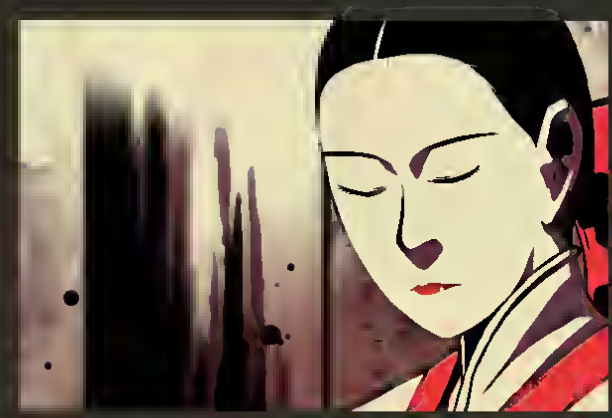

By the way Yeon Hwa, you...
What are you doing all alone in a corner like this?

I'm just... getting some fresh air

Hm, okay. Well I've passed on the message so I'll get going.
Don't be out here too long~ I don't know if you'll get scolded or not.
Hmm...

She's gone.
.....

You were spending your time better than I thought.
You've made a friend already...

Let's not waste time on unnecessary things.
Even if you are accompanying His Highness what will you do if you get caught hanging out here?

I'll worry about it then. Oh well...

...You haven't changed one bit.
I think you've changed a bit.

.....
From now on, when His Highness the Prince enters the Main Palace, try to be alone around here.
Then I will come find you myself like today.

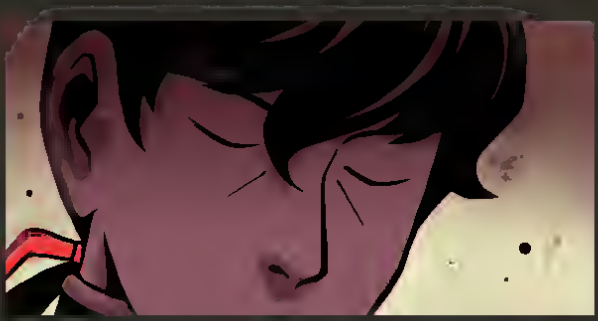

Did you not hear the conversation just now?
Due to the assassination of the Right-parliamentarian it has become difficult to go out alone

Don't be weak.
.....
It's not like you're leaving the Main Palace and you can come out here without being seen.
Thanks to this assassination incident the soldiers are more spread out as to guard the parliamentarians.

.....
...Did you do it?
Huh?

Did you…
assassinate the Right parliamentarian?
……

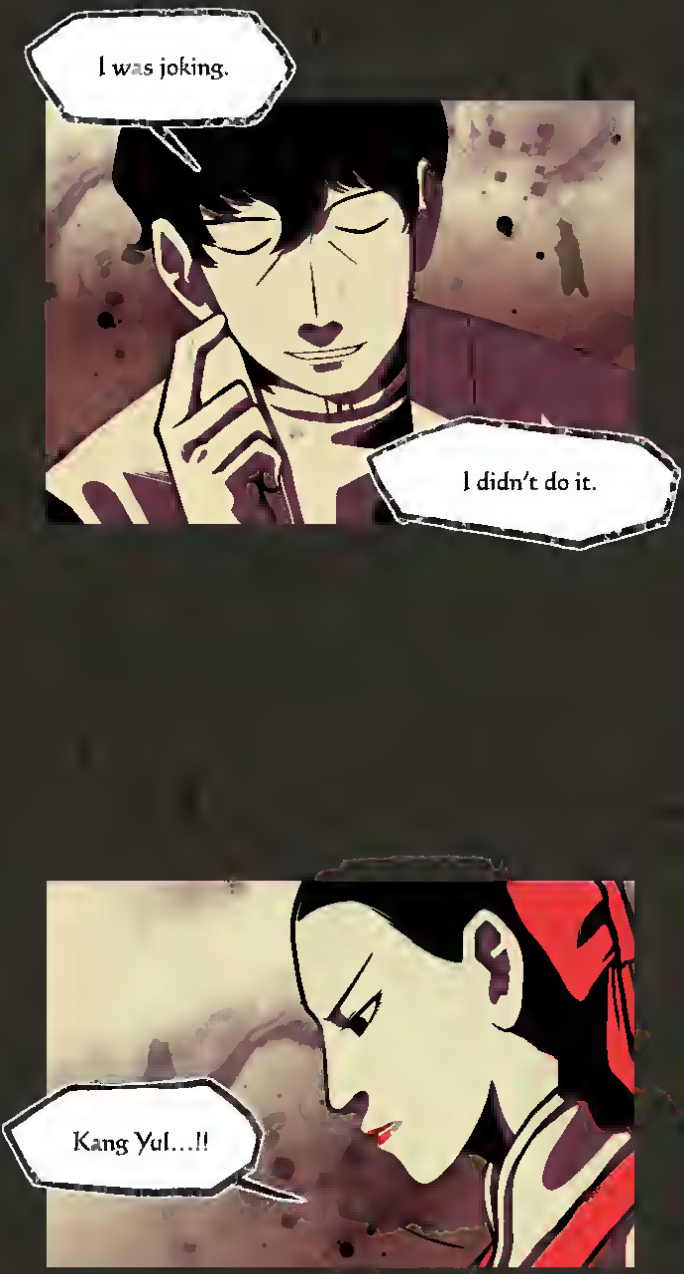

Kang Yul.
I don't trust you.

...You're right.

I did it.
...!!

You really killed the...!!
No.

I was joking.
I didn't do it.
Kang Yul...!!

Huhu...I apologize.
But, whatever answer I give you, you won't believe me.
Of course thanks to this incident I have more opportunity to visit the Main Palace and the gaze of the guards are dissipated due to escorting of parliamentarians so it does make it easier for me...

But I don't kill outside of what His Highness the Prince orders me to do

.....

However...
How about you?
If due to the assassination incident, the guards on the Emperor are reduced and the guarding of the parliamentarians increase ..
You, who's also in Main Palace, will benefit from this.

Didn't you kill him?

Dan Hyang.

Didn't you kill him?

Dan Hyang.

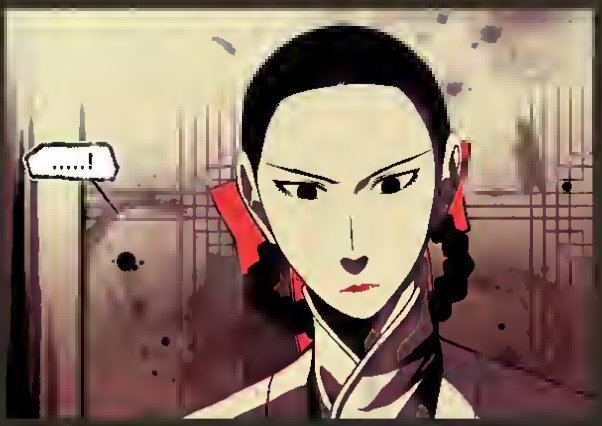

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 38. Trap (1)

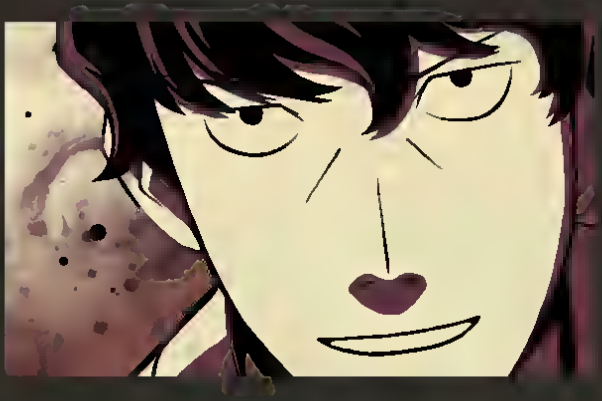

Unlike His Highness the prince and I, you don't care about Juushin after your job is carried out so you don't need to worry about many factors like us.
You only need to take care of your personal vendetta so if your goal is within reach...
You could kill the Right-parliamentarian and try to divert attention.

...Don't say such silly things, if it's like that I would not have waited this long until now.
Are you doubting me with that weak reasoning?
...Huhu, see. You're dumbfounded too when you're placed under suspicion, no?

.....!

What I want to say is let's not doubt each other.
Using any reason possible, anyone can doubt all.

And once you start doubting, there's no end.
Just like you have doubted me.
However, the two of us must not be like that.
You said you don't trust me...

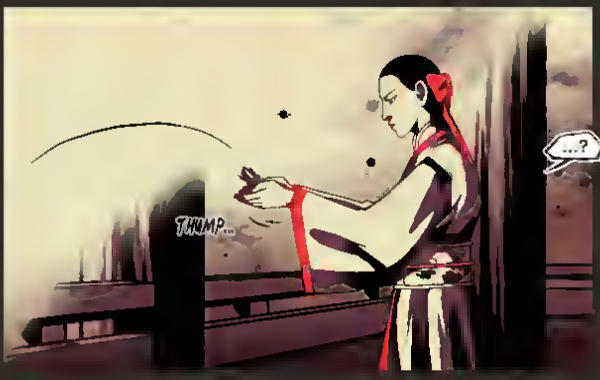

But I trust you.

RUSTLE...

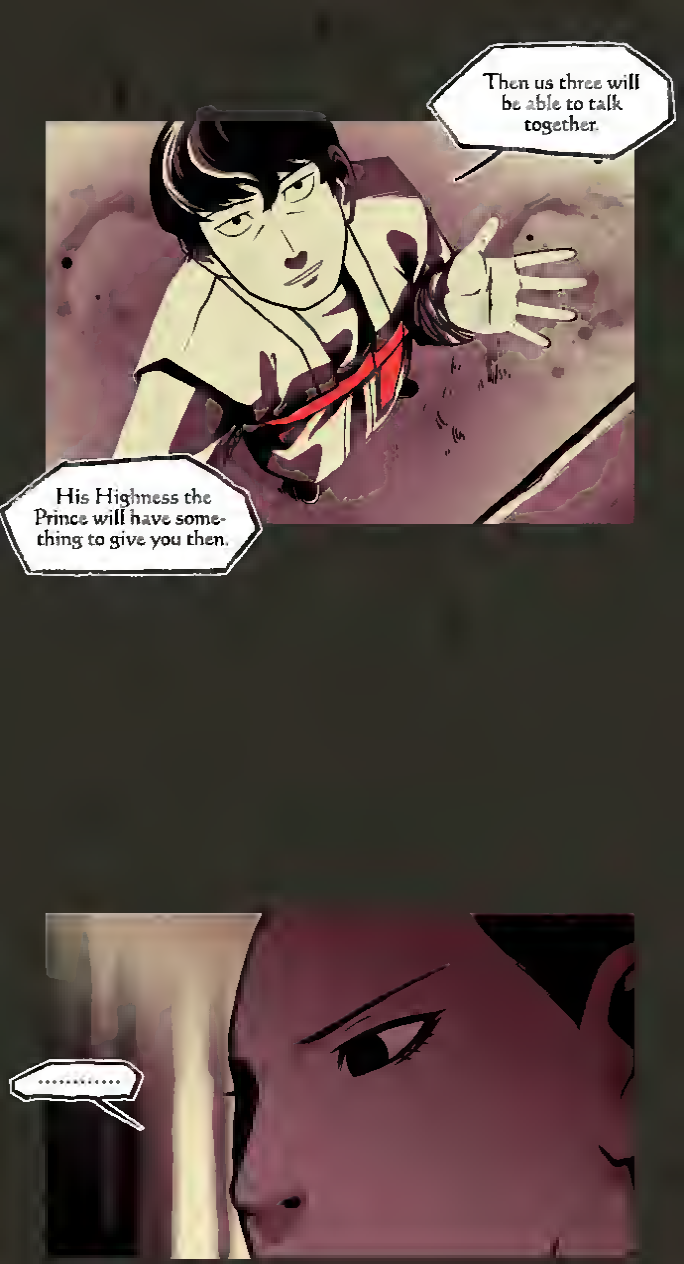

Catch.
THROW-

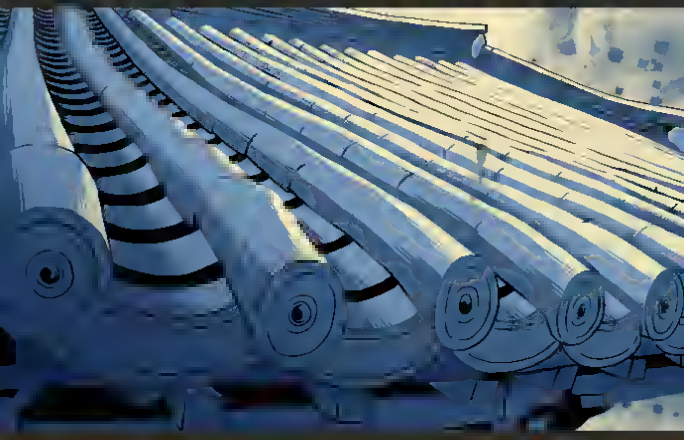

THUMP...
...?

...What's this?

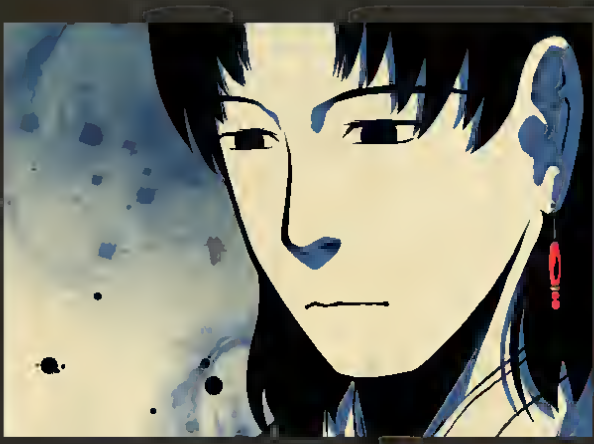

It's the blueprint of the palace which the Emperor resides and the positioning of guards.
His Highness the Prince drew it himself. Please memorize and burn it afterwards.

And at the right moment, His Highness will visit where you're staying himself...
Under the guise of overseeing the preparation of Emperor's Birthday...

Then us three will be able to talk together.
His Highness the Prince will have something to give you then.
.....

The relationship between Lord Mu Ryang and me is good enough between a Yul-saeng-do who's esteeming to become a Parliament-arian and a lady of the court who desires to be by His Majesty the Emperor

.....
Lord Mu Ryang. The chief Royal Investigator is here.
..Ah, yes. Let him in.

Welcome
Hm yes. You must be busy taking care of the court ladies for the upcoming Emperor's Birthday, aren't you?

You jest.
It's nothing compared to the work you're doing right now.
Anyway, why have you come to see me?

Hm. I have few things to ask you.
Ah, right- This is the coroner assisting with the current case named 'Baek Hwan'.
Pleasure to meet you. Lord Mu Ryang.

At the scene of the assassination of Right-parliamentarian there was a branch from Red Blossom Yu Dan tree.
We heard you were very knowledgeable in this area before you were a Yul-saeng-do so we've come to you hoping we'd get some clues.

...It's just something I studied for my personal enjoyment so I don't know how much help I will be to you.
But I will tell you everything I know. Please have a seat.
First, I am curious about how this branch is in bloom.
Isn't Red Blossom Yu Dan tree a flower tree that only briefly blossoms in Spring?
Yes. That's right.
The Dan Hyang tree you discovered at the scene must have been intentionally grown indoors.

Is that possible?
From what I remember, the Dan Hyang tree doesn't seem to be of a size that can be easily grown indoors?

I've heard that the Dan Hyang tree used for clothing dye and it was often grown indoors.
A big Dan Hyang tree like the one the Investigator is talking about would be difficult to come across,
Because they all burned down during the wars.

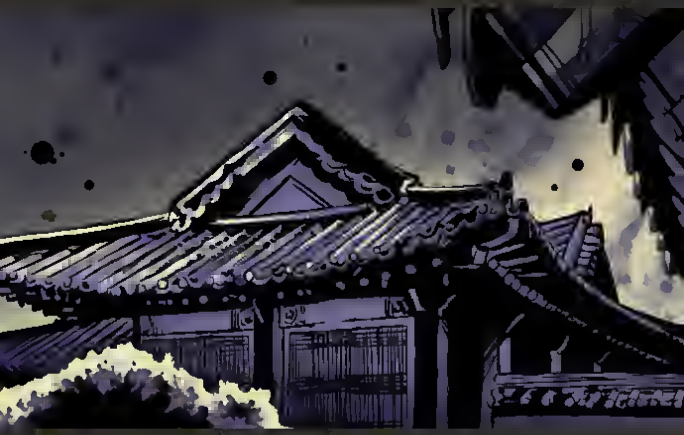

So as I thought, this is…
a branch from a tree that Dan Hyang intentionally cultivated for her own purpose.

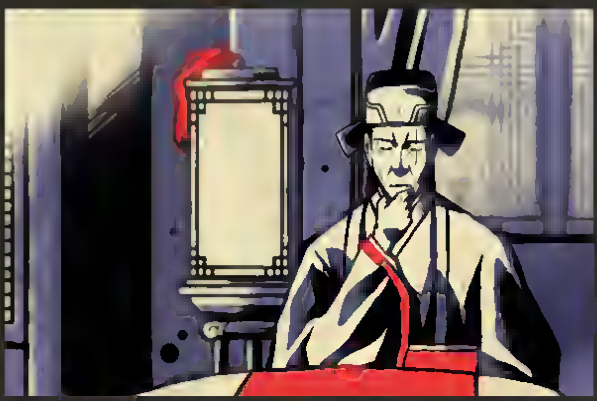

Of course it's possible the culprit did not grow it herself.
……
She could have gotten it from someone who was growing it for dyes.

However, this is an important clue, that much is clear
At this time of the year Dan Hyang tree does not bloom...

cannot avoid questioning.

RATTLE...

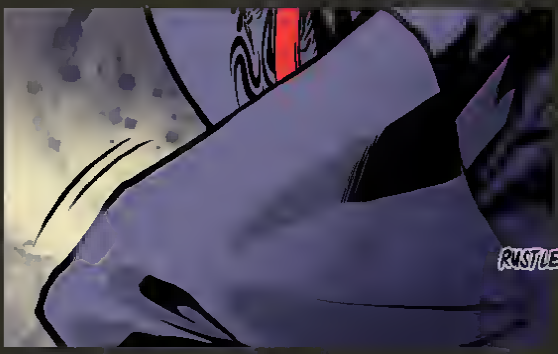

.....
Did you do as you were told?

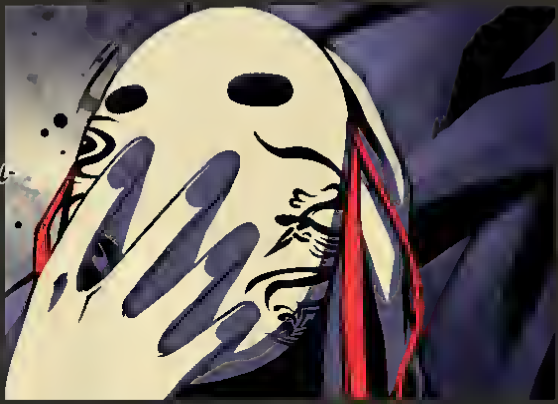

Yes.
You weren't seen or followed by anyone?
No.

...Good. If you did as such the rest can be left alone and the situation will go on as expected.

You no longer need to wear a mask.

Yes.

Understood,

Father.

His Majesty fully left this task to me.
.....
Not even a small mistake is acceptable.
If everything is taken care of in the end...
PEEK-
I will recommend you as a Right parliamentarian so keep that in mind.

...Yes sir.

The high officials within the Royal Palace already know Dan Hyang so... they won't doubt her existence and her planning of the Emperor's assassination.

I am looking forward to tomorrow.

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 38. Trap (2)

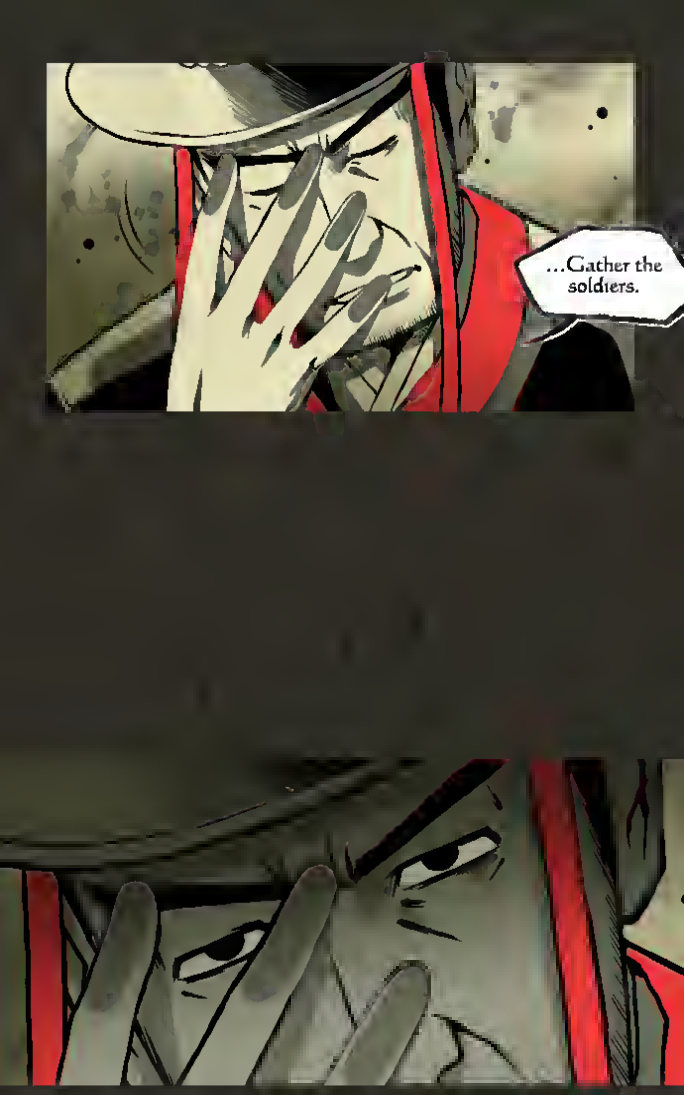

Is that certain?
Yes sir.
I could not enter myself but...
A palace maid who was cleaning the room discovered it and came to me.

Several daggers and bloodied clothes... and blooming tree branch, she said she saw them.
It was Dan Hyang tree...!!

I ordered the palace maid to remain silent and came back as soon as I could to report to you, sir.
……

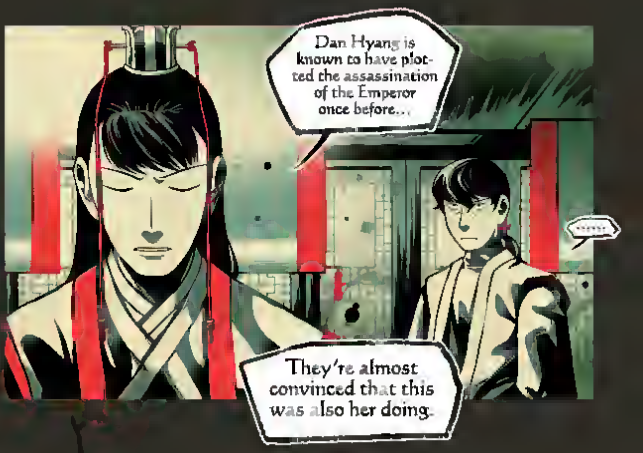

If this is true we must move as quickly as possible…!

I will go myself.

...do you mean the Dan Hyang tree?

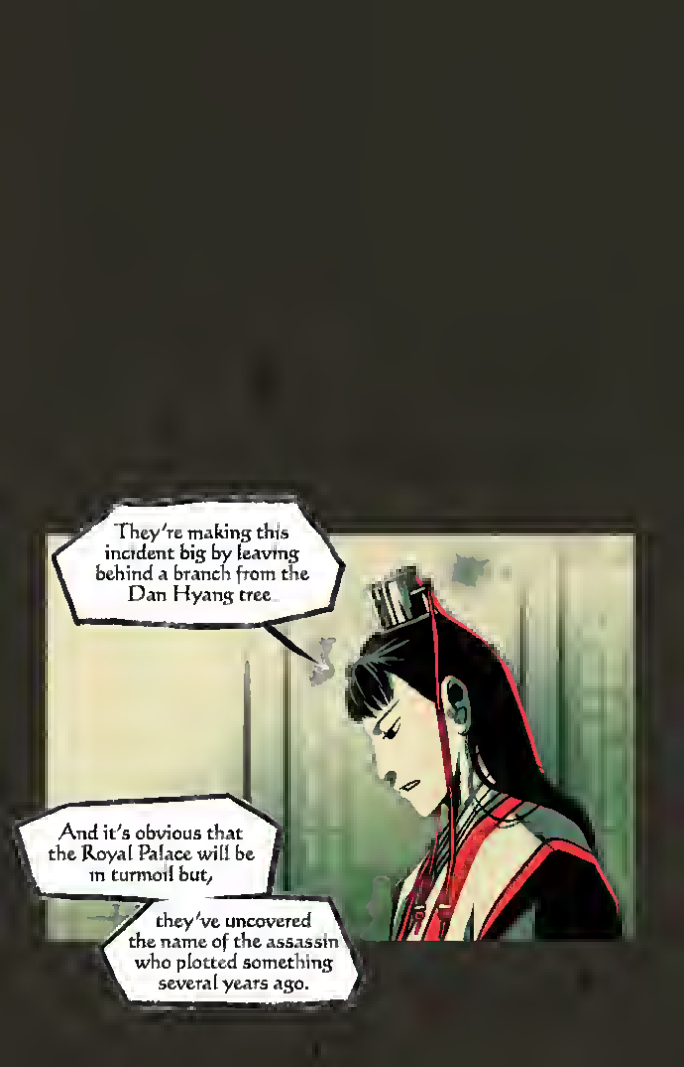

Yes. The Royal Investigator said there was a blooming tree branch at the scene of assassination.

Dan Hyang is known to have plotted the assassination of the Emperor once before...
.....
They're almost convinced that this was also her doing.

IT'S A TRAP.

There's no way she did it.
She has waited silently until we made it through Dae-jung-yul.

And when I talked to her in person she actually doubted me.
It seems like she didn't know who carried out the assassination, either.
She probably doesn't know that her name is being discussed within the Royal Palace.
Yes, I believe...
Someone is using the name "Dan Hyang" to plot something malicious.

They're making this incident big by leaving behind a branch from the Dan Hyang tree.
And it's obvious that the Royal Palace will be in turmoil but, they've uncovered the name of the assassin who plotted something several years ago.

This incident... It's not just retaliation against the Right-parliamentarian...
There is a bigger goal and it is better to say that they've used this assassination as part of the procedure.
.....

Since we already know her, it's natural for us to think that someone else did it. But...
Most of Left and Right-parliamentarian believe that this is the return of Dan Hyang, who has planned the assassination of the Emperor.

This is troublesome. If things continue like this it will be bad for us.
They might discover the identity of the real Dan Hyang while in pursuit.

That's also one of my worries.
I need to meet with the Royal Investigator. I should try to figure out what his grasp of the current situation is.
Yes, I will prepare right aw…
Your Highness-

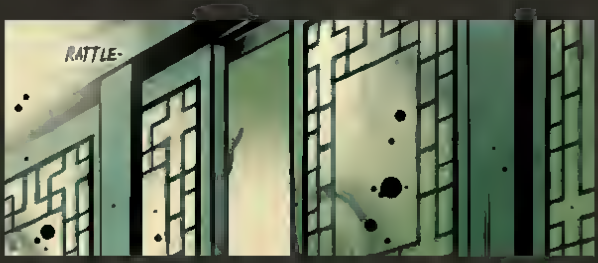

This is Royal Investigator Joong Ho.
ATTENTION-

...?!

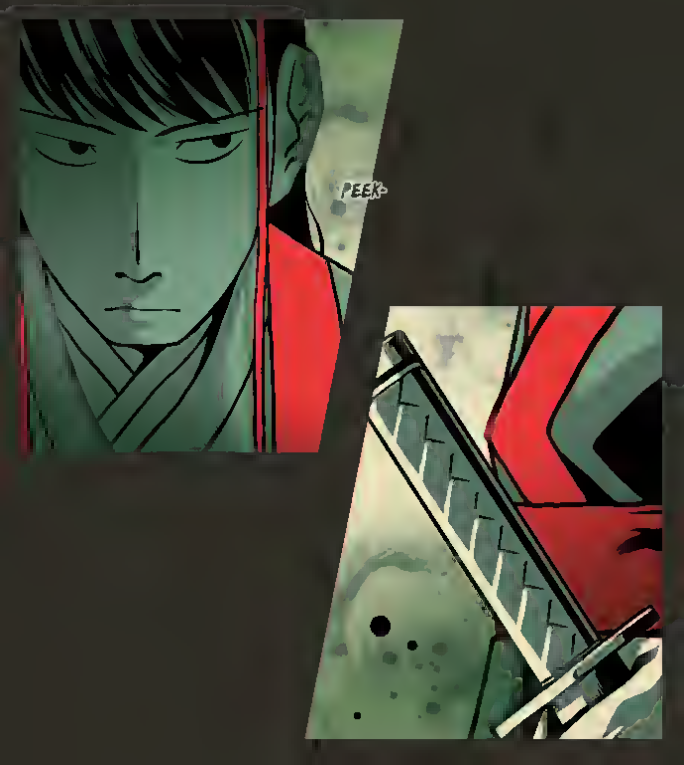

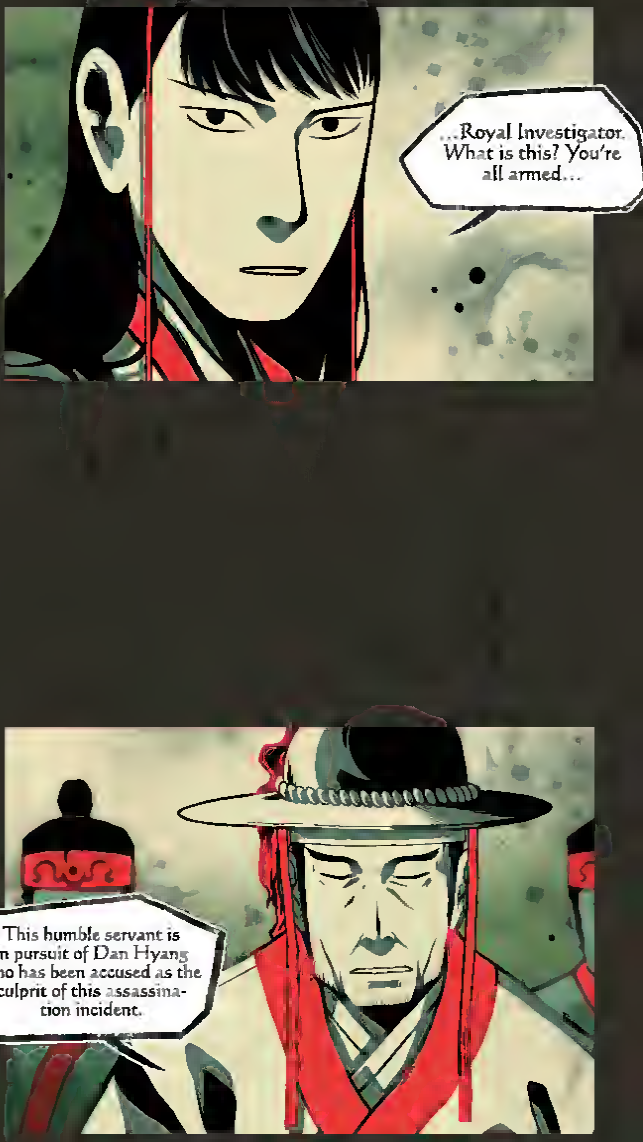

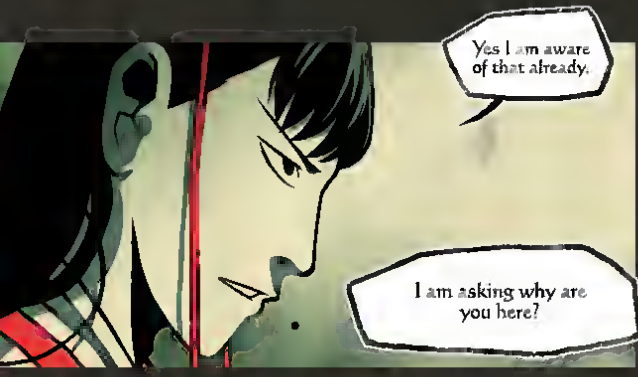

Enter.

RATTLE-

Your Highness the Prince, I apologize for coming to you in a hurry.
BOW-

PEEK

...Royal Investigator. What is this? You're all armed...
This humble servant is in pursuit of Dan Hyang who has been accused as the culprit of this assassination incident.

Yes I am aware of that already.
I am asking why are you here?

.....
...Your Highness.

Please forgive my rudeness.

SEIZE HIM!!
YES SIR!!
...!?
GRAB!
GRAB!
WH...WHAT?!

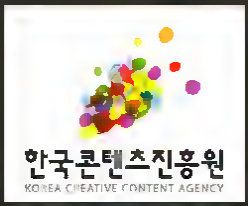

Kang Yul.

Kang Yul.

PLOTTING THE ASSASSINATION OF HIS MAJESTY THE EMPEROR...!

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 40. Trap (3)

Royal Investigator! Please explain slowly
Under what grounds are you seizing him?
There is absolutely no reason for him to assassinate the Right parliamentarian!

Your Highness.
A palace maid cleaning Kang Yul's chamber found a branch of Red Blossom Yu Dan tree.
In addition, she found bloody clothes and several weapons used in assassination.
At this point in time, surely Your Highness the Prince must know how important these objects are...

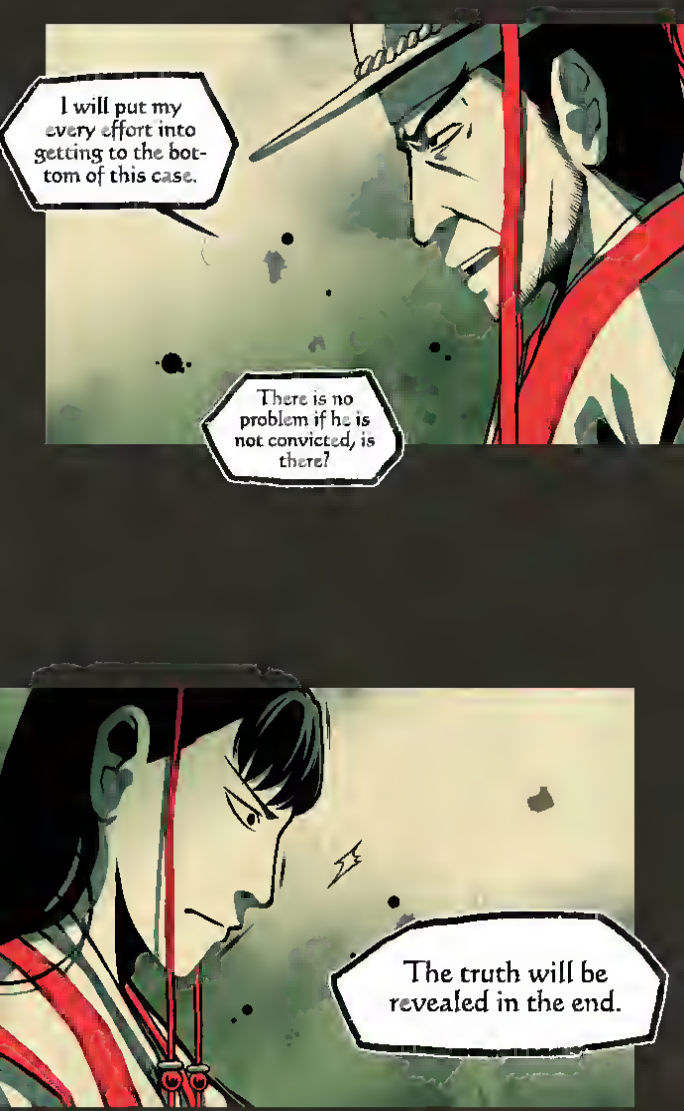

He must have a suitable explanation for this discovery.

...This cannot be. There must be a mistake.
What if, the real culprit was trying to frame another person; did you think about that?
Kang Yul was always with me.
Then, will you place me under suspicion too?!
.....

Of course, this humble servant is not entirely certain on whether he is Assassin Dan Hyang yet.
However, Your Highness...
After discovering these crucial evidence while in pursuit of Dan Hyang, we can't ignore this.
.....
CLANK

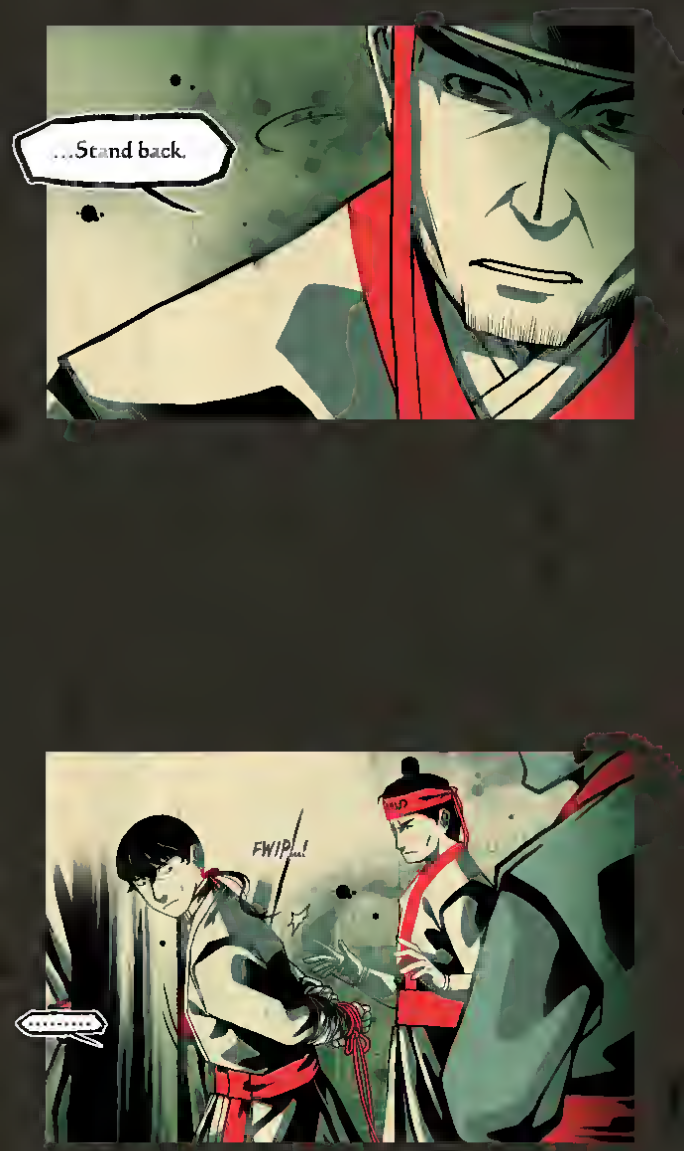

It is unfortunate that a trusted servant of yours was associated with such a terrible incident... but please do not worry too much.

I will put my every effort into getting to the bottom of this case.
There is no problem if he is not convicted, is there?
The truth will be revealed in the end.

GRIT...
...An inconvenient truth will be covered easily by a likely falsehood.
Royal Investigator.

.....
I will keep that in mind. Your Highness.
...I will back off for now.
However, may I talk to him? It will take just a moment.
.....
He won't flee.

...Stand back.
FWIP...!

Kang Yul.
Your Highness... This makes no sense.
How could a blooming branch be in my room!

They have planned this from the start.
They made this incident huge on purpose, left behind traces, and framed you for the crime.
Just who...!
Why would they do this to me?

Listen. Kang Yul. I still need you.
The one who plotted against you did all this because he knew this.
Someone who doesn't like my exhibiting powers within the Royal Palace.
.....
And, in order to tie my hands and feet, he won't mind what happens to a parliamentarian who fell out of his favor.

He intended to do this all along.

Oho...
If things are like this now, Hui Yeon might have caught on...

That this incident was created to limit his actions...

Yes, Your Majesty— Leaving behind a blooming branch at the scene of crime on purpose...
Having those items discovered in Kang Yul's room, he must have figured out everything by now.
Furthermore, he might deduce that Your orders might be behind this...
But while he might have a hunch, he won't be able to find any proof.
Since this was all done under me.

This task must be processed and finished quickly.
Nothing good will come out of dragging this out.

Yes. Your Majesty. Your humble servant also thinks so.
The Royal Investigator is dedicated, but he is inflexible...

He won't just conclude based from those items that Kang Yul is the culprit
If given more time, he will try to dig in deeper

Hmph...! No, such thing...
I will personally conduct the trial, send that message along to the Investigator.
Under the guise of preserving the dignity of Royal Court before the Emperor's Birthday, we will quickly carry out the trial and the punishment.

Yes, Your Majesty
We will do so.

The assassin was...

...caught?

Yes, just this morning...
He should be under arrest and getting interrogated right now.
It's not certain that he really is the culprit but... it's true that he was seized.
Now, the restrictions on the movements of court ladies will lift eventually. So hang in there, Yeon Hwa.

.....
...Just who is it?
..What?

Who assassinated a Right parliamentarian of Great Juushin?

Hm— I don't think this information should be shared with ladies of the court but...

As I said before, this is not certain.
But he is the most likely culprit at the moment.
The one who was accused is someone who can be called the right arm of His Highness the Prince.
.....!!
His name is...

'Kang Yul,' they said.

His name is...

'Kang Yul,' so they say.

However, there must be no conflicts between the two of us.
You said you don't trust me but...

I trust you.

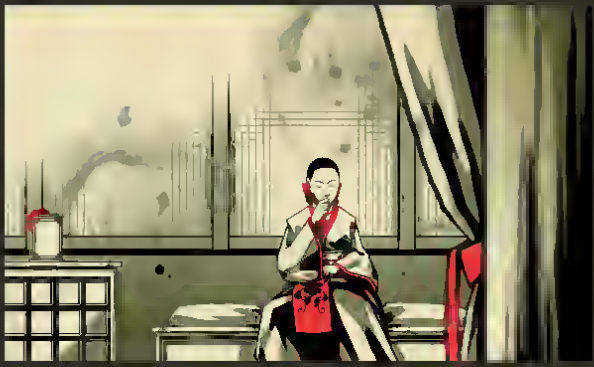

...Kang Yul.
Anyway, I just wanted to let you know that the restrictions on court ladies' movements will be lifted soon.
Since it must be stifling to just spend your time inside.
Yes. Thank you for taking care of us.

GRIN-

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 41. The Problem of Choice

To think Kang Yul was arrested as the culprit
When we met before, he said he didn't do it

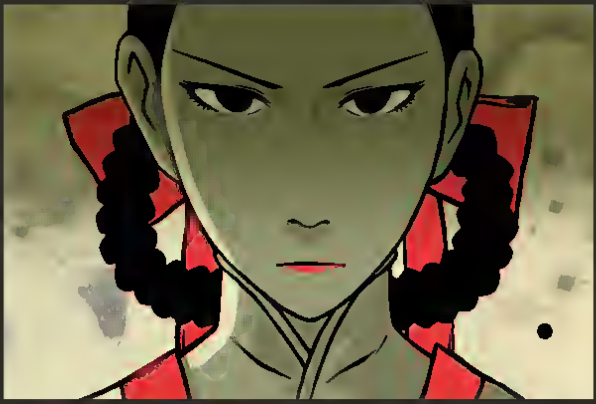

It didn't seem like a lie...
And there's no real reason to lie to me...

As I said before, this isn't definitive.
It's just that, as of now, he is the most likely perpetrator.

They say he was seized because he was the one most likely to have committed the crime, but it's strange that they could not ascertain this for sure.
There's something going on, but there is so little information to analyze the situation.

What's certain is that there has been a problem ...
And that Kang Yul can no longer come to me STAND
CLATTER...

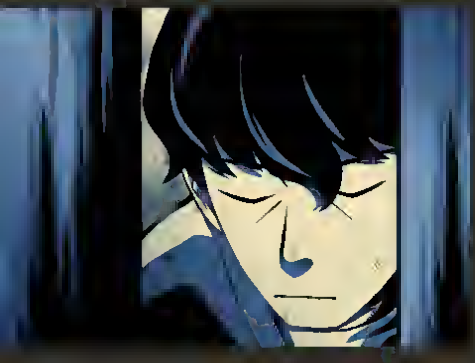

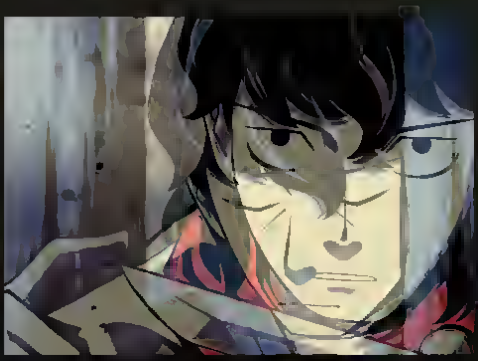

I need to meet
Prince Hui Yeon

So, is this where I end up again after all...

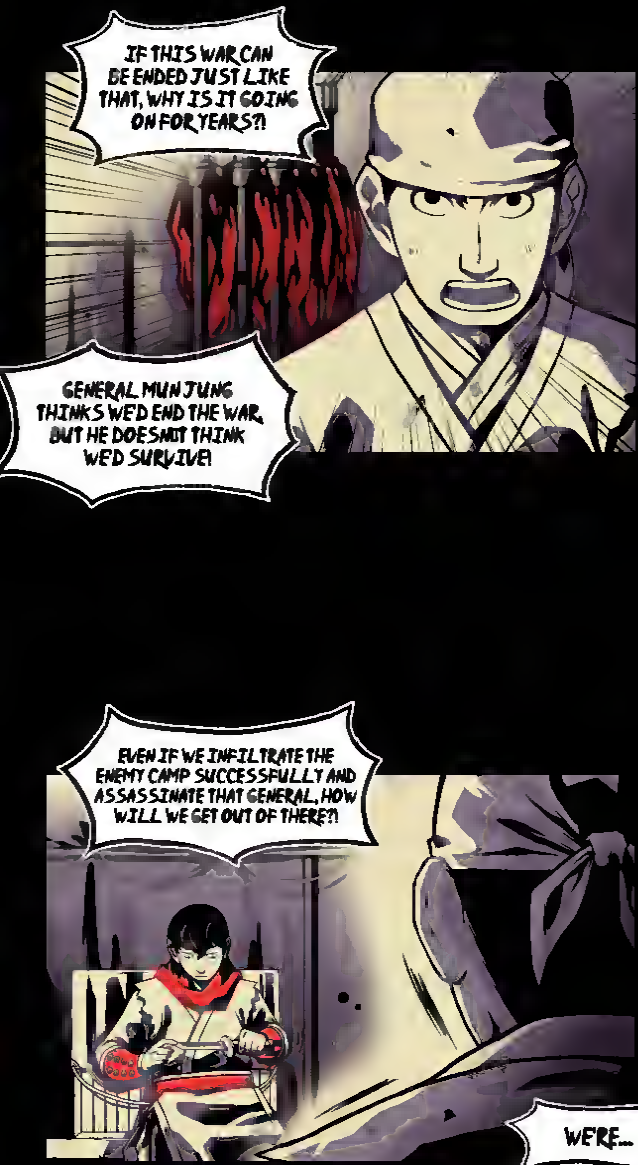

Is that true?

If we get caught fleeing the camp, we'd be executed immediately, you know that much at least.
We're not like the regular conscripted soldiers of Juushin, but we'll be punished just the same.
FLICK
Whether we die while deserting the camp, or get killed on the battlefield, it's the same thing.—

We just need to survive.
And that's why we've undergone harsh training for years.
How stupid!
You think we can win against regular soldiers just with few years of training?

It's possible.
We only need one person. We just need to assassinate the opposition's general.
One to one, and an ambush attack, we can certainly do that.
After that, General Mun Jung will finish the war.

IF THIS WAR CAN BE ENDED JUST LIKE THAT, WHY IS IT GOING ON FOR YEARS?!
GENERAL MUN JUNG THINKS WE'D END THE WAR, BUT HE DOESNOT THINK WE'D SURVIVE!
EVEN IF WE INFILTRATE THE ENEMY CAMP SUCCESSFULLY AND ASSASSINATE THAT GENERAL, HOW WILL WE GET OUT OF THERE?!
WE'RE...

JUST PAWNS TO BE USED AND DISPOSED OF...!
.....
Not bad.
What...?!

It's not a bad trade-off.
If we can eliminate an enemy general in exchange for our lives, it's not a bad deal at all?
We'll be leading the Juushin army to victory.

.....
Are you really okay with that?

It's not a matter of whether or not I'm good with it.
It's a matter of choice.
Ever since the war began, I had no choice in anything.
Before I grew up, the war happened and my parents died.
I had no will of my own.

So I decided by myself.
I won't tolerate being dragged around like that anymore.
How I'll live and how I'll die, I'll choose that myself.

Coming here wasn't my choice, but I'm going to try by my own volition.

I'll make the choice...!
CLACK...!

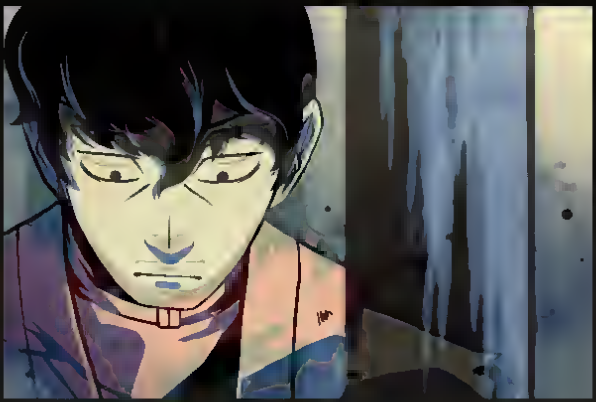

.....

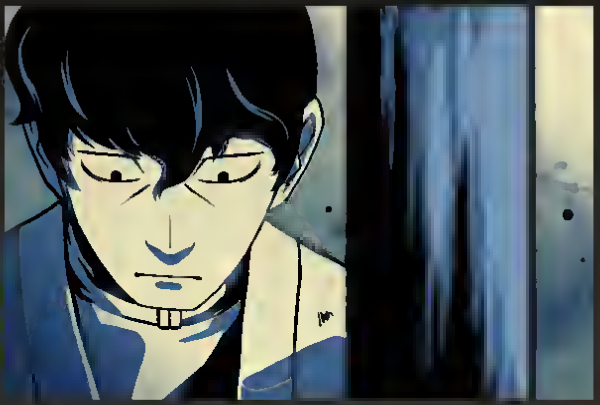

If you think that, then I won't force you to leave with me.
But...

I hope your choice is not wrong.
.....

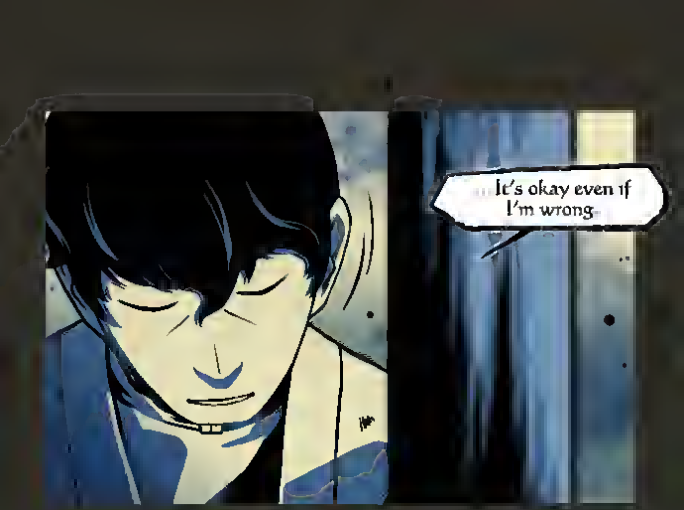

I chose that path after all.

Yes. Your Highness.
The news has spread among all parliamentarians.

Kang Yul is not the culprit, Left parliamentarian Hong Chun.
This is a conspiracy.

Pardon me for saying this, Your Highness, but...

This humble servant does not really trust that Kang Yul.
I only trust him because Your Highness trusts him.
However, apart from trusting him, a blossoming branch, bloody clothes and various weapons were discovered in his chamber.
.....
How should we explain this?

In order to frame Kang Yul, it's not difficult to plant those items in his chamber.
No one else visits his chamber other than palace maids for cleaning, so anyone can enter as he wishes.
The Royal Investigator has the wrong person.

If you say so, then I will also believe that.
However, other parliamentarians will not feel the same as I do. That's the issue.
The Principal Royal Investigator and other parliamentarians will not believe that.
Regardless of Left or Right, everyone is extremely angered by this incident.

They think that the highest government official, a parliamentarian, was mocked.

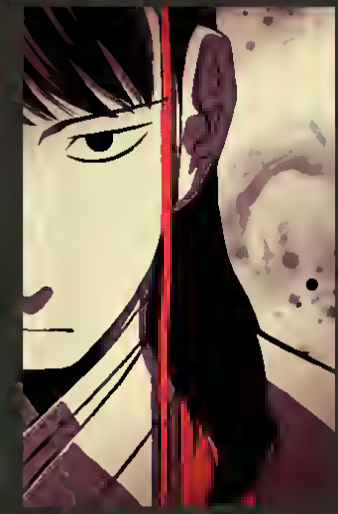

His Majesty also ordered a swift and harsh punishment for the culprit, because he could not let this just slide by.

If Kang Yul is indeed that assassin Dan Hyang...
He's aiming to assassinate the Emperor.
...He's not Dan Hyang.

Yes, Your Majesty

Then we can only prove that he's not.

If we cannot prove that he's not Dan Hyang...

He will be executed.

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 42. Trap (4)

That fast?
Yes.
His Majesty is absolutely furious that such an unlucky occurrence happened right before his birthday.
.....
He ordered to swiftly finish investigating the incident and dole out the proper punishment.

Furthermore, in order to show the power of the Royal House, His Majesty will carry out the execution himself.
...!
His Majesty will...

As you already know, he murdered a parliamentarian as the assassin Dan Hyang and...
He had planned to assassinate the Emperor before, isn't that right?
His Majesty will harshly punish the person who dared insult the Royal House.

But, Right-parliamentarian Mun Jung...
There are parts that still don't make sense for us to conclude this person as the culprit.

If he is framed, then we might execute someone His Highness the Prince trusts very much...
His Highness the Prince will not stand by and let this happen.

.....
Royal Investigator.

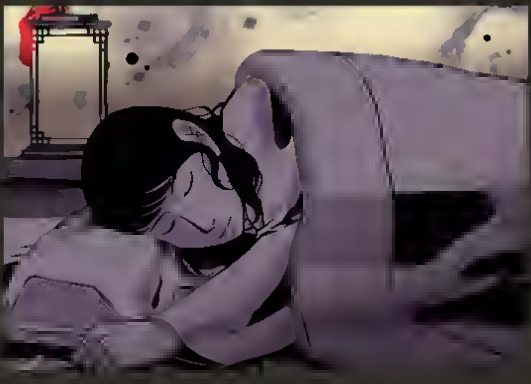

This was ordered by the Great Juushin's Emperor himself.
The one who can order us...!

is not Prince Hui Yeon, but His Majesty...
Do you understand?
.....
You can torture him.

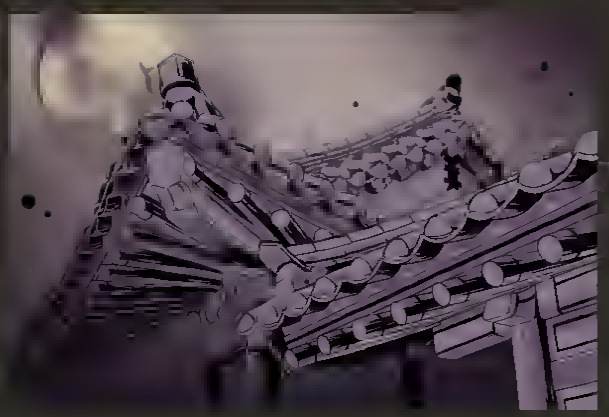

But, he cannot die.
Only under His Majesty's orders, can Kang Yul die...
...as the assassin Dan Hyang.
.....

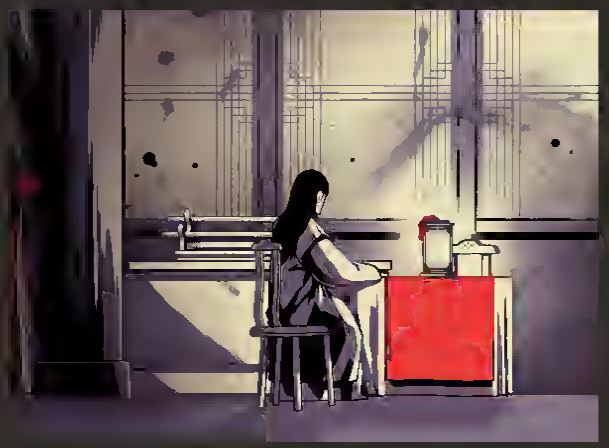

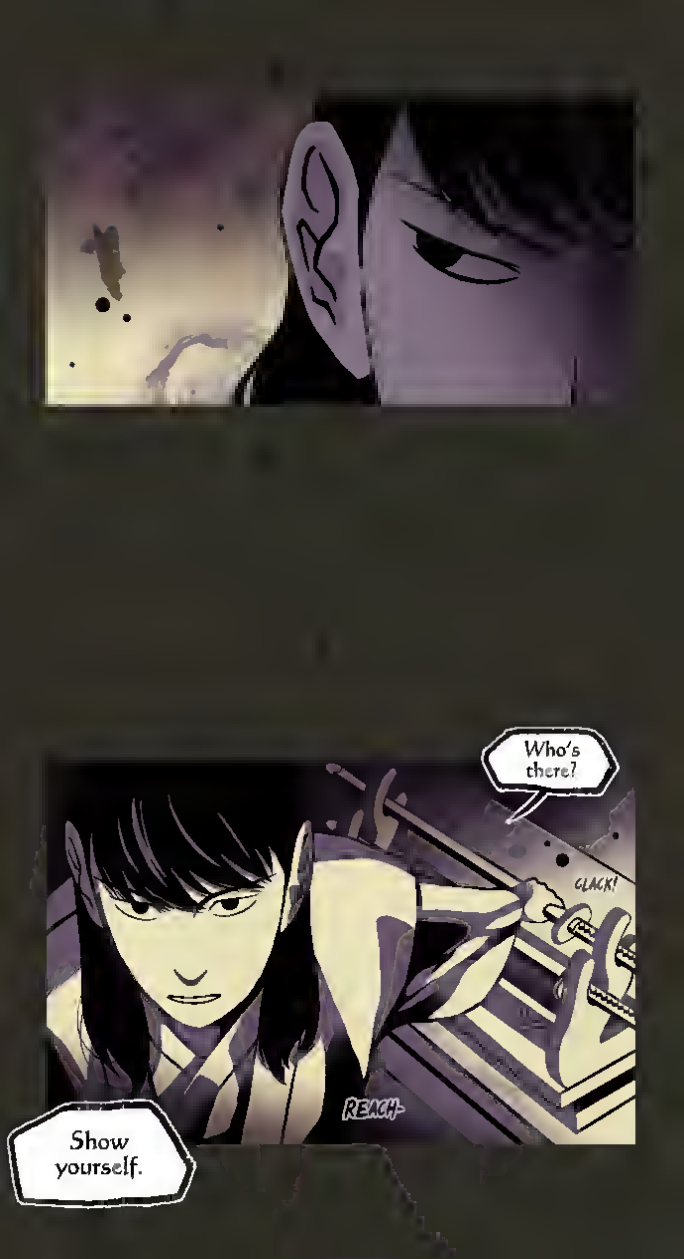

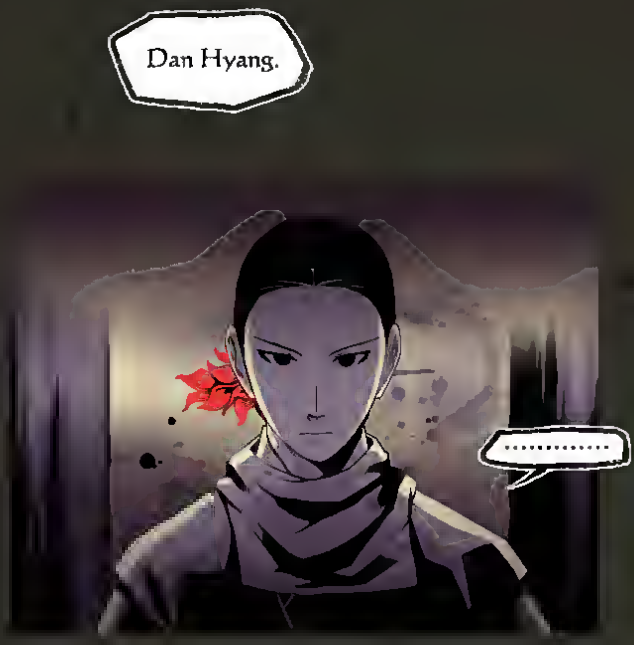

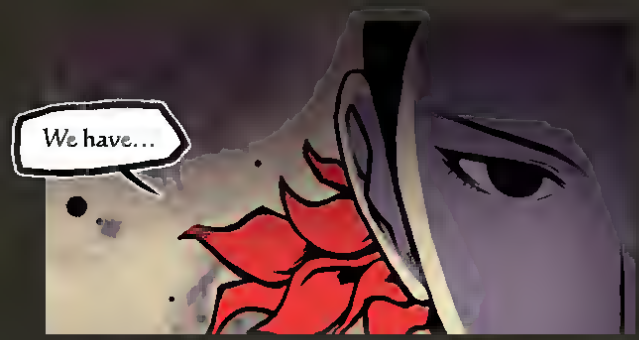

If we cannot prove that he's not Dan Hyang...
He will be executed
.....

CREAK-
...!

Who's there?
CLACK!
REACH
Show yourself.

...You can put that down.
You have somewhere else to point your sword at.

It's alright. I was not seen by anyone, since the palace guards are disorganized after the right-parliamentarian's assassination incident.
... It will probably be this way until Kangyul's execution.
Rustle
... You knew?
Yes. I don't know the details, but I have heard that he was arrested.
That is why I came here, despite the dangers.

I see... Since he was our only way to communicate, you couldn't just sit around after his arrest.
What happened, exactly?

Dan Hyang. Kangyul's arrest wasn't only because of the right-parliamentarian assassination.
THUD
... Is there another accusation?

.....
Attempted assassination of the Emperor.
...!!
He is suspected of being you...
The assassin 'Dan Hyang'.

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 43. Proof

That's...
It is silly to us, since you and I both know the whole truth, but it isn't so with the other courtesans.
They have found a branch of a red flowering tree from the assassinated courtesan's corpse

But I do not leave red flowering branches when performing my job.
I know. The real culprit left it to make it seem like Dan Hyang's doing.
The people do not care if the branch was left by the real Dan Hyang or not.
They only want the culprit to be caught, whoever it is...
And it seems the chief of police in charge of this investigation couldn't just ignore the clue in front of him.

Dan Hyang.
When you first came into the palace, Kangyul told me... that in the past you had planned the Emperor's assassination.
They've taken that to their advantage and... by using Dan Hyang's name they planned to punish the right-parliamentarian and pin both crimes on Kangyul.
.....

... Who are the "they" that you are talking about?
Do you have any idea of who the true culprit is?
The Emperor and the right-parliamentarian Mun-Jung, probably.
The Emperor would give the order, and Mun-Jung manipulated the information and created this mess.

Mun-Jung ...
Yes
Dan Hyang, you have probably seen a right-parliamentarian with a scar on his eye at the Dae-Jung Yul.

He is the right-hand man of the Emperor,
And he carries out the Emperor's dirty work in secrecy.
The Emperor has probably ordered him to do this in order to prevent me from growing too powerful.
He disapproves of my participation in the court politics, after all.

Furthermore, I heard that Mun-Jung has been pressuring the chief of police.
He wanted the investigations to be wrapped up within the week, and that the Emperor wished to personally execute Kangyul.

The fact that he is trying to wrap up the investigations in such a hurry is the circumstantial evidence that indicates them as the true culprits.
They must end it quickly, since they cannot risk the chief of police digging out their dirt.
However, we don't have hard evidence against them.
... What is your plan now?

Since the chief of police cannot go against the Emperor's orders, the execution will take place within this week.
But before that ...
I will prove that Kangyul is not the assassin Dan Hyang.

... Are you perhaps thinking that I should step up and kill Mun-Jung personally?

You are half right, but half wrong.
...?
Raise

Of course, if you were to assassinate Mun-Jung and leave a red flowering branch,
Kangyul would be free of any doubt, and let out of prison.
.....
However, the problem comes after that.

The Emperor and Mun-Jung are behind this little incident; so once Kangyul is caught, they have no further reason to make up a fake Dan Hyang.
Now they know that there will be no more assassinations done in Dan Hyang's name.
But if we make our move and assassinate in the name of Dan Hyang,
They can make two deductions.

First.
Prince Hui Yeon has created this event to save Kangyul.
And second.
There is someone in the palace under direct orders of the prince...

...Other than Kangyul.
.....
The first deduction is ignorable, since I will be the prime suspect no matter what method is used to save Kangyul.
Plus, they would only have circumstantial evidence at best...
What I am worried about is when they reach the second deduction.

They have been watching me ever since I came back to the palace...
And they are curious of why I have returned so suddenly.
I would be troubled if their questions were to be answered with this second deduction.
Moreover, while they are searching for the person under my command other than Kangyul, they could find out that the real Dan Hyang has infiltrated the palace.
.....

Truthfully, the Emperor had ordered to investigate Dan Hyang's whereabouts, and the chief of police had kept an eye on you for a while.
Although that was halted since Kangyul's arrest...

If Dan Hyang were to appear while Kangyul is in prison, they could be on your trail again.
I want to avoid leaving clues leading up to you as much as possible.
... By saving Kangyul, we could send the entire operation up into flames.

Just like they did to Kangyul. In the same way...

I will frame them.

I will repay them the same favor.
Just like they did to Kangyul. In the same way...
I will frame them.

You mean set them up with a false accusation?
Yes. Although "frame" may not be the correct word, as I am merely forcing them to admit to their own deviousness...
I will save Kangyul with this.

However, for this method, my abilities alone will not suffice.
In fact, I have been awake all night pondering this, and you've shown up at the right time.
How about it? Will you hear me out?
.....

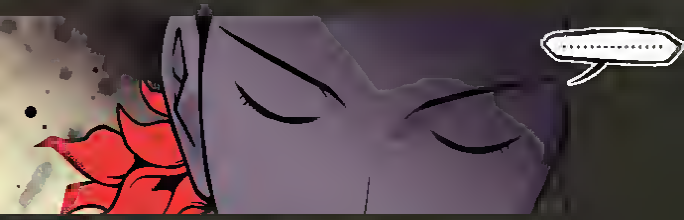

... Do you really think this will work?
Will everything go as you've planned it?

No plan is perfect.
Once put in motion, there is no telling what unforeseen variables or accidents might come into play.

When I was bringing you to the courtesan selection...
As well as when I was participating in court politics, I had always made plans in advance.
As you know, some were successful, some were not...

Kangyul's rescue plan is no different.
If you ask me about my certainty of success, I cannot answer you.
I am merely trying my best to mitigate unpredictable variables and raise the probability of success.

Let me give it a try.

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Chapter 44. The Time Given

SPLASH -!!
...!!
KUFGH...!
COUGH!
COUGH!

Hah – He's a tough one. Didn't scream once.
HUFF
HUFF
Good grief… Why don't you confess already?
……
DRIP Confess. .?

Yeah, yeah. If you admit it and fess up, at least you'll be left alone until the execution date
.....
Come on, talk. Now...!

Hmph...! I won't do you any favors.

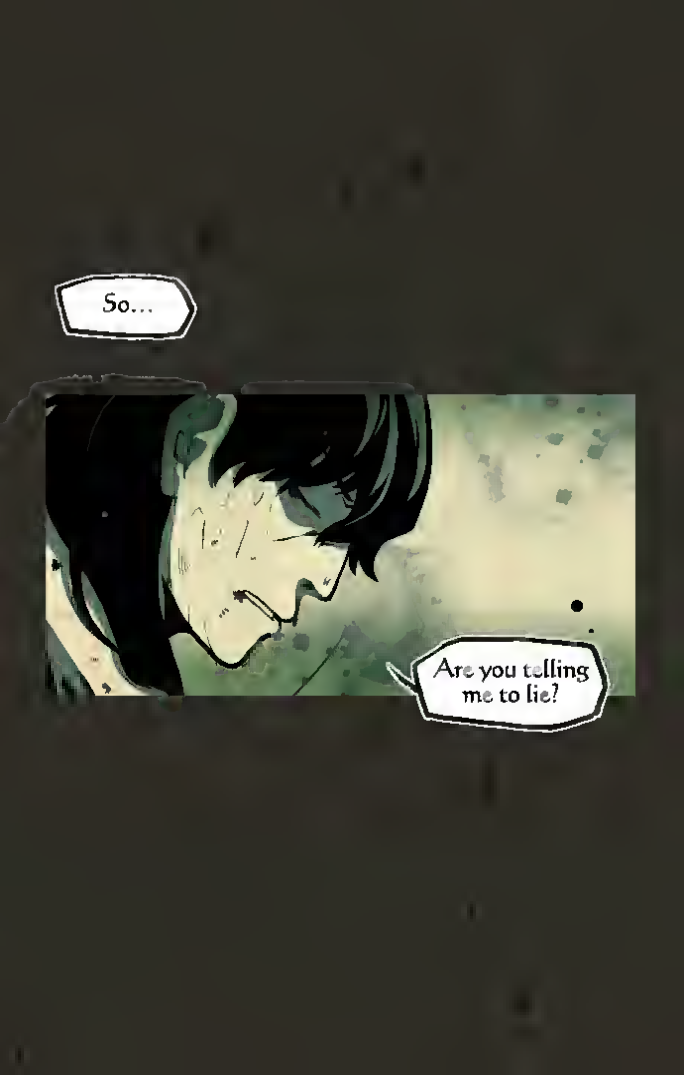

WH... WHAT?!
WHY YOU!!
Enough.
...!!

... I see that we still haven't made any progress at all.
STEP HALT!
STEP
We... We're very sorry, sir!

I will speak to him for a while. Stand guard outside.
YES, SIR!

SLASH
.....

Kangyul... Do you recognize the gravity of your current situation?
Whether you confess or not, you will be executed in a few days.
.....
Your resistance is meaningless; nothing will change.

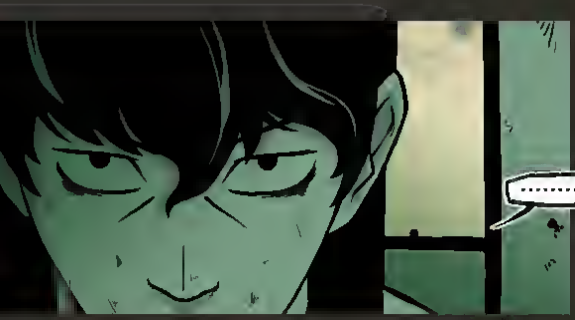

So...
Are you telling me to lie?

Tell the truth.
Truth...?
What is truth?
Is it giving the answer that those who framed me want to hear?

You've asked me countless times, and my answer is always the same.
I do not know of the bloody garments and the flower branch.
It is a set-up.

Then tell me who they are, and why they would frame you!
You do not have an assigned job nor any influence within the court; you are merely a servant.

The Crown Prince may trust you and keep you close, but that's it!
What benefits would come from framing a man such as yourself?!
I am asking who would do such a thing?!

.....

Listen closely, Kangyul. I still have a need for you.
The ones framing you know this, which is why they've organized this incident.

Then let me ask you this.
If you truly think that I was not framed, that I am indeed the assassin Dan Hyang, and that I have committed the crime against the right-parlamentarian...

Then why do you keep pressing me for the truth?

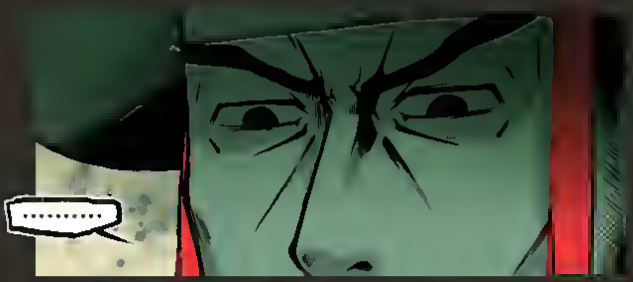

From the moment the Emperor decided to execute me, any confessions I might make became meaningless to you.

Even so, the reason you keep repeating the question...

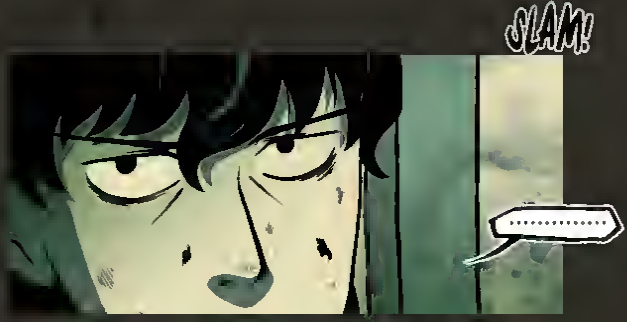

... Is that you have already realized it.
...!!
That something is not right...!
SHUT YOUR MOUTH! HOLD YOUR VENOMOUS TONGUE!
YOU INSULT ME, WHILE I AM ONLY SEEKING THE TRUTH!

There isn't enough time left...
For the truth to be uncovered.

.....

CREAK...

Go back inside and keep a keen eye on him.
His torture is postponed until further notice.
YES, SIR!
.....

His Majesty is absolutely furious that such an unlucky occurrence happened right before his birthday.
He ordered to swiftly finish investigating the incident and dole out the proper punishment.

Only under His Majesty's orders, can Kang Yul die.
... as the assassin, Dan Hyang

Dammit...!

3 days left.

In 3 days, the trial will take place.
Of course, its verdict has already been decided.

Although the chief of police seems reluctant to do so...
From the moment His Highness gave the order, everything will end in 3 days.
.....
However, I heard the chief of police has halted Kangyul's torture yesterday.

Halted the torture?
Kangyul cannot have confessed to something he did not do... so why?
I do not know that far.
Is he having second thoughts?
That treacherous man...

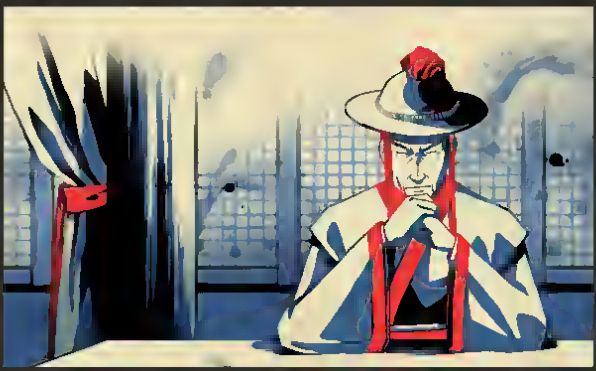

THIS IS A WORK OF FICTION. ANY CONNECTION TO HISTORICAL EVENTS OR FIGURES IS COINCIDENTAL.

Episode 45. The Beginning

You have already realized it
That something is not right...!
.....

Are you feeling unwell, sir?
...!
DRAAG...

No – I must be tired, that's all.
What is it?

I came to bring you the autopsy report of the victim, the right-parliamentarian.
The trial isn't far, after all.

Here it is.
TAP...
Thank you.

Hm – Baek-Hwan. It isn't too different from your previous statements.
Yes. He was killed by a single stab wound, and was not poisoned…

The wound was very deep so the victim died shortly after from excessive blood loss.
... Is the stab wound the most relevant cause of death?

...?!
Your Highness...!

Were you unaccompanied?
I was not aware of your coming. I beg your forgiveness.
It is I who showed up unannounced, so you do not need to apologize.

More importantly... about your talk earlier. You said the right-parliamentarian died of a single stab wound, but were there any other external wounds?
LEAN -

It is a very minor injury and not enough to be life-threatening, but...
There is a scratch from a sword on his left arm.

A sword injury on the left arm means that the assassin could not kill him with one strike...
Then there is a possibility that the right-parliamentarian has confronted with his assassin before his death.

Chief. Was there anything strange that the soldiers might have noticed from his mansion?
The sound of a duel, for instance, or someone calling for help.
I have also thought of it and investigated into it, but...
At the time, the right-parliamentarian was about to return to his hometown after he had resigned from his duties.

So all of the family members and most servants had already gone ahead with the baggage,
And there were only a handful of men to escort the right-parliamentarian.
Even the remaining servants had stayed the night far from his place, so they had not noticed the incident that night.

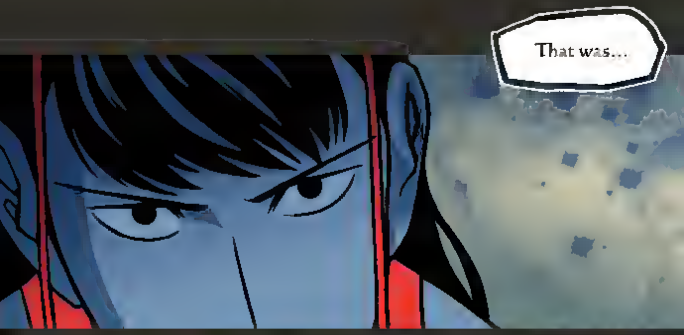

What about the bodyguards?
Most high-class nobles have their own bodyguards to protect them...
Had they gone ahead, too?
That was also part of the investigation.

However, all of them had resigned ten days before his assassination.
It appears that during those ten days, the right-parliamentarian was without guards, wanting to employ new ones once he arrived to his hometown.

This appeared strange to me, but...
Many have testified to this fact, so it must be true.
.....
Ten days before. They all resigned...

...?
Is there a problem, Your Highness?

Chief of Police. Do you know what day it was, ten days before the incident?

*Note: Court Meeting

The day before the Dae-Jung Yul*.

That particular Dae-Jung-Yul was the one to determine my participation in the court politics as the only heir to the throne, hence a very important day.
Yes... The votes were favorable to Your Highness' participation, were they not?
Yes. The results were 119 votes in my favor.
Though the voting was anonymous, we all know that the votes came from all of the left-parliamentarians, in addition to one right-parliamentarian.

...!
One right-parliamentarian...
Yes. He is the one...
Who was assassinated.

.....

The day before the Dae-Jung-Yul,
He said that he was assaulted by unknown, armed men.
....Assaulted?!

According to him, the assailants killed all five of the bodyguards who were with him,
And threatened him to retreat his intention to support me.
Regardless, he has voted in my favor...
And shortly after, he was killed for it.

If it is as Your Highness described it, then, this incident is not the work of the assassin, Dan Hyang,
But the work of those who were dissatisfied with the Dae-Jung-Yul's results!
Your Highness, why have you not mentioned this before?!
Because I have not witnessed it, but only heard of it from the right-parliamentarian;
as the crown prince, I had to be careful.
Furthermore, according to him, the man who threatened him…

Was none other than right-parliamentarian Mun-Jung.
...!!!!
Mun-Jung...!

Back then, the assassinated right-parliamentarian has told me where he was assailed.
He also said that he had buried his five bodyguards in the same place.

Then there will be five corpses buried in that place.
